METHODIST GENERAL CONFERENCE.

To-day was set apart for the election of Bishops in the Methodist General Conference, and in consequence an immense audience was in attendance. A resolution not to count the ballot cast for less than eight candidates was tabled. Dr. Sloan said thirty years ago at the election of Bishops there had been ballot stuffing. He hoped no such thing would be discovered here. If so, the vote should be taken over again.

An Indiana delegate demanded that the laity and clergy vote separately for Bishops. The motion for a separate vote was lost amid tremendous cheering. A delegate called attention to the demonstrations of the audience, and moved that the galleries be cleared. [Hisses from the galleries.]

Bishop Ames asked the police, if any present, to clear the galleries. A delegate stated that a great portion of the disturbance came from the delegates themselves.

The Convention then proceeded to vote by ballot for Bishops. The process was very tedious, and after the tellers had retired to count the vote, Bishop Richardson, of Canada, was introduced and addressed the Conference.

Reports were received and adopted from the Committees on Baker University, Schools in Germany and Switzerland, and Schools in the United States, and on Mischief Caused by the Multiplication of Seminaries and Colleges.

Dr. Carlton then moved that the rules be suspended to receive a reply from him to Dr. Lanahan's report. Adopted. The paper was then read. It declares that the report of Dr. Lanahan seeks to convict Goodenough of complicity with Porter in the purchase of paper, and that said report is a wicked slander on an honest man. The paper refers to Lanahan's report as the creation of feverish dreams of the assistant agent, and denies that Lanahan was refused access to the papers of the Book Concern. The paper further declares the allegations that officers of the Concern were engaged in oil speculations as baseless as they are base. It further charges that the accountants whom Lanahan employed to ferret out alleged wrongs of the Book Concern were of doubtful reputation, and that Dr. Lanahan had a conference with the editors of certain secular papers the evening before the publication of the offensive articles.

At 2:40 P. M. the tellers returned with the following result of the first ballot: W. L. Harris, Central Ohio, 270; R. S. Foster, New York, 232; Thos. Boreman, Iowa, 293. These three are elected Bishops. There were 408 ballots cast; necessary to choice 205. Only the above mentioned had a majority.

The following received votes as given below: Rev. Dr. Wiley, 170; Rev. Dr. Merrill, 170; Rev. Jesse T. Peck, 161; Rev. Gilbert Haven, 148; Rev. E. O. Haven, 130; Rev. J. M. Read, 111; Rev. E. G. Andrews, 111; Rev. T. M. Eddy, 105; Rev. J. P. Newman, 100; Rev. J. W. Walden, 90; Rev. C. D. Foss, 85; Rev. Dr. Fowler, 84; Rev. Dr. Crary, 82; Rev. Dr. Cummings, 58; Rev. Mr. Kennett, 57; Rev. Mr. Brush, 50; Rev. Mr. Pershing, 47; Rev. Mr. Martin, 46; Rev. Mr. Hanlin, 43; Rev. Mr. Hunt, 32; Rev. Mr. Nutt, 24; Rev. Mr. Matlack, 23; Rev. Mr. Brown, 23; Rev. Mr. Fuller, 23.

The Conference adjourned to meet again in the afternoon to complete the election.

The Conference, after adopting the report of the Committee on Freedmen, proceeded to vote for five additional Bishops.

A resolution was passed that the tellers sit with closed doors.

Second Ballot.—The tellers returned and gave the following as the result of the second ballot for Bishops: Whole number of votes, 400; necessary for a choice, 201; J. W. Wiley, 256, elected; S. M. Merrill, 223, elected; G. Haven, 182; J. H. Peck, 178; E. G. Andrews, 143; E. O. Haven, 119; J. M. Reed, 112; T. M. Eddy, 104; J. M. Waldron, 96; J. P. Newman, 84; C. D. Foss, 61; N. E. Cobley, 66; B. F. Crary, 51; Moses Hill, 41; C. H. Fowler, 41; W. Brush, 37; A. Martin, 25; A. J. Kennett, 26; J. Cummings, 34, and several others less than 20.

On the the report of the committee on the state of the Church being read, Dr. Sliver, of Baltimore, protested against it as a milk and water report, as indefinite, and not providing for bringing young people to the Church.

Adjourned.

A. B. M. U. CELEBRATION.

The fifty-eighth anniversary of the American Baptist Missionary Union was celebrated this morning in Calvary church. Dr. Anderson presided. The President made an address, reviewing the working of the Union for the past year. He said they were accumulating a vast amount of real estate in every mission, and their personal property received through wills was very large. The book supply was also becoming enlarged twenty fold, and there were various other funds in the hands of the administration of the Union, making it the duty of the Union to be exceedingly careful in their choice of this administration. The receipts for the year were $212,199; expenditures $230,952.

STOKES' TRIAL.

It is expected that Edward S. Stokes will be brought into court to-morrow morning, to plead to the indictment whether guilty or not guilty. At the same time the District Attorney will move to decide with the counsel for the defense on a day when the trial shall be commenced. The District Attorney is ready to proceed with the case immediately, and will go on with it as soon as the day can be fixed.

Later.—Stokes will be brought before Judge Ingraham in the Court of Oyer and Terminer to-morrow, to plead to the indictment charging him with the murder of James Fisk, Jr. John McKeon will appear for the prisoner. The District Attorney will urge the case forward, and endeavor to have it set down for an early day. The trial will probably take place before the 1st of July.

GOULD-GORDON SUIT.

The Gould-Gordon case came up again yesterday before Judge Leonard in the Supreme Court Chambers. On motion to punish Gordon for contempt of Court in failing to appear and being examined in the suit now pending between him and Jay Gould, Judge Leonard decided that he would issue an attachment unless Gordon appeared to-morrow at eleven A. M. to testify.

ADULTERATION OF MILK.

The Tribune this morning has an expose of frauds in the adulteration of the New York milk trade, demonstrating that 75,000 quarts more milk are sold daily than are brought to market. The statement is based on an inquiry prosecuted by the officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the Board of Health. A list of delinquent dealers is published.

ABSCONDED.

It is rumored on Wall street that one McIlvaine, of the firm of E. P. Selmser & Co., has absconded with all the available funds of the firm. Selmser has been sick for some time. It is alleged that McIlvaine sold stocks for cash that the firm had carried over from yesterday. McIlvaine had checks certified and bought gold. The amount is not known—supposed to be $40,000.

CONGRESS.

The Habeas Corpus Suspension Bill.

ALCORN'S REPLY TO AMES.

Refunding Taxes on Destroyed Spirits.

THE MAIL STEAMSHIP SUBSIDY.

WASHINGTON, May 21, 1872.

SENATE.

ABOLISHING BONDED WAREHOUSES.

Mr. CONKLING presented a memorial of the New York Chamber of Commerce remonstrating against abolishing bonded warehouses. Referred to Committee on Finance.

Mr. SHERMAN obtained leave for the Committee on Finance to sit during the sessions of the Senate.

SUPPLEMENTAL APPORTIONMENT BILL.

Mr. EDMUNDS called up the House supplemental apportionment bill granting additional Representatives to New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Tennessee, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida.

Mr. MORTON offered an amendment leaving it optional with each State to elect additional Representatives given by this bill, either at large or as Representatives of a district.

Mr. CASSERLY opposed the amendment, and argued against the system of electing Representatives at large.

Mr. MORTON said he thought it very desirable that large States especially should have Representatives at large.

At the expiration of the morning hour the bill went over.

STATE WAR CLAIMS.

Mr. PATTERSON called up the bill for adjusting the claims of New Hampshire for money advanced to volunteers.

Messrs. PATTERSON and CRAGIN explained the bill, and it was passed.

HABEAS CORPUS SUSPENSION.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the habeas corpus suspension bill.

Mr. ALCORN made a general denial of the charges made against him by Mr. Ames last evening. The Senator (Ames) had charged him with attempting to ride two horses. If so, he was trying to guide them to the common goal of harmony and peace, while Senator Ames was content to ride the black horse alone. He feared, however, that the Senator would soon lose his seat. As to the charge that he (Alcorn), when he was Governor, had misused the secret service funds of the State, it ought to be some consolation to the Senator (Ames) that if the funds of Mississippi were misused, it was no loss to him personally, as he had never paid any taxes in the State, and had not any interest or even a residence there. [Laughter.] The fact was, however, that there had not been a single defalcation by public officers in Mississippi appointed by him, and the people of several counties in the State would be glad if the same could be said of those appointed by Senator Ames. He (Alcorn) had expended some of the Secret Service Fund in attempting to catch Ames' appointees, who had run away with public money, but, like the Ku-Klux, they were expert enough to keep out of the way. [Laughter.]

Mr. BAYARD said he had long ago come to the conclusion that the party in power was making a systematic attempt to put the elections throughout the country under the control of the Federal Government, and each successive step confirmed him in that view. A few days ago the Senate had passed the Louisiana election bill for that purpose, and now it was demanded that the power to suspend the habeas corpus act should be continued in the President, the object being the same. Legislation seemed to be assuming more and more every day the form of a military order, and the Government was becoming a Government of will instead of a Government of laws; but there was some hope that these extreme measures would bring about a good result by awakening the people to the dangers surrounding them, and so produce a salutary reaction in favor of respect for the laws and safeguards of the Constitution.

THE BANKRUPTCY ACT.

Mr. CARPENTER, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported without amendment the bill to amend the bankruptcy act by substituting 1871 for 1864 in the first proviso of the fourteenth section; also, with amendments, Mr. Trumbull's bill amendatory of section 33 of the bankruptcy act.

In conclusion, Mr. Bayard asked the Senate and the whole country whether in view of the history of the past three years at the South it was not time to abolish reconstruction and substitute for it reconciliation.

Mr. MORTON said the Senators opposed to this bill had spoken at great length, but he did not complain of that, because they had a very difficult task. They had charged the President with exercising despotic powers for malignant purposes, and I had assailed the conduct and motives of the officers acting under him and of the party supporting him. This attack was made for political purposes. These speeches had been prepared as campaign documents. He felt, therefore, that in discussing the question, he owed it to the administration and to the Republican members of the Senate to speak plainly, and tell the whole truth. He said that when the war ceased there was general good feeling throughout the county. In the North a feeling of forgiveness towards the South and in favor of general amnesty prevailed. That feeling lasted several months, and the Democratic party was responsible for its passing away. The party at the North advised the Southern people that they had forfeited nothing by rebellion, and that the imposition of any conditions for reconstruction was tyranny and usurpation. The Southern people accepted this advice, and the result was that when Congress was compelled to embark in the work of reconstruction, the Governments at the South were thrown by the action of the Northern Democrats and Southern leaders into the hands of the colored people and of Northern men who had gone there. This was a necessity of the situation. But if the Southern people had rejected the advice of the Democrats and had continued in the frame of mind in which they were after the war, they would have had the matter in their own hands again. In 1868 the Democratic party in convention resolved that the reconstruction acts were null and void, and a prominent Democratic leader (Blair) declared that it would be the duty of the Democratic President, when elected, to overthrow the carpet bag governments by force.

Mr. Morton here defended the carpet baggers so called. Most of them he said were Union officers.

HOUSE.

REFUNDING TAXES ON DESTROYED SPIRITS.

Mr. BECK presented a conference report on the bill to provide for the abatement or repayment of taxes on distilled spirits in bond destroyed by casualties. The bill is altered so as to apply only to spirits destroyed by accidental fires or other casualty, and without any fraud, collusion or neglect of the owner, on which taxes had not been paid at the time of the destruction, and on spirits which were in the custody of any officer of internal revenue in any distillery warehouse or bonded warehouse, the taxes are to be abated and the warehouse bond cancelled. If the tax has been collected since the destruction of the spirits, it is to be refunded.

After an explanation by Mr. Beck, the report was agreed to.

POSTOFFICE APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House then took up the Senate amendments to the postoffice appropriation bill. The first important amendment reached was that doubling the service and subsidy for carrying the mails between San Francisco, Japan and China, in which the Committee on appropriations recommended concurrence.

In the course of a stormy discussion, in which the amendment was advocated by Messrs. Garfield and Sargent, and opposed by Messrs. Holman, Morgan and Randall, the latter alluded to influences at work for this appropriation, which he characterized as disgraceful to Congress.

Mr. SARGENT—What efforts and influences do you refer to?

Mr. RANDALL—Efforts by people outside of this hall and inside of it.

Mr. MORGAN (excitedly)—There is a hired lobby to carry it through.

Mr. RANDALL—I will stand by what I have said, and if there is a committee of investigation raised I will prove it.

Mr. MORGAN—Yes, and I am ready to back it. [Laughter, and cries of "louder."]

Mr. SARGENT to Randall—Tell me what specific thing has been done.

Mr. RANDALL—Undue influences—wicked influences—have been at work to induce Congress to increase this appropriation unnecessarily and unwarrantably, and I know the language I used and the purport of it.

Mr. SARGENT—The point I ask is, what specific thing you charge?

Mr. RANDALL—I am not going to be catechised.

Mr. SARGENT—You spoke of members being influenced. What members?

Mr. RANDALL—The gentleman cannot chase me to an individualization. If he feels aggrieved by anything I said, he knows his remedy.

Mr. SARGENT—That is all nonsense. The gentleman speaks of unworthy means being used by members, and I ask him what members?

Mr. RANDALL—I said there were wicked influences at work inside and outside of this hall.

Mr. SARGENT—That is not specific.

Mr. BANKS—I object to interruptions, and I call the gentleman from California to order.

Mr. STORM—That gentleman is entirely too sensitive about Goat Island and the Pacific Steamship Company.

Mr. SARGENT—It is not about pig iron.

Mr. STORM—Oh! I am not sensitive about that.

The debate was further continued by Messrs. Banks, Brooks, Bingham, Townsend (N. Y.), Kelley, Farnsworth, Maynard and Palmer in support of the proposition, and by Messrs. Wood, Shellabarger, Niblack, Coburn, Marshall and Speer (Pa.) in opposition.

The House then proceeded to vote on the proposition.

Mr. HOLMAN moved to amend by reducing the amount of subsidy to $500,000 a year. Negatived—yeas, 88, nays, 109.

On motion of Mr. SPEER, of Pennsylvania, the time for contracting for additional service was limited to three months after the passage of the act, and on motion of Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, the engines and machinery of the ships, as well as the ships themselves, were required to be wholly of American construction.

The Senate proposition, as thus amended, was then agreed to—yeas 109, nays 86.

The next important amendment was that of doubling the service and subsidy of the Brazilian mail steamship line, in which the Committee on Appropriations recommended concurrence with the amendment appropriating $400,000 for the year ending June 30, 1873. The committee amendment was rejected.

Mr. KILLINGER moved to amend by requiring new steamships accepted for additional service to be of iron and American construction.

Mr. LYNCH opposed the requirement as to iron material.

Mr. Killinger's amendment was rejected.

The Senate amendment was then rejected—yeas 64, nays 112.

The next vote was on the Senate amendment striking out the section which prohibits persons who have held office in any department from prosecuting claims in such department within two years of their leaving the office. The Senate amendment was rejected.

The Senate amendment requiring the New York & Panama Steamship line to be maintained was agreed to.

A Conference Committee was then ordered on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses.

SUNDRY CIVIL APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. After progressing through a couple of pages of the bill, much time having been taken up in discussing the character of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, the committee rose, and the House took a recess till 7:30 P. M., the evening session to be for business of the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

MICHIGAN.

Affairs at the Mines.

MILWAUKEE, May 21.—A special from Houghton, Michigan, to the Daily Wisconsin, says seven prisoners were arrested on Saturday night and lodged in jail. While the arrests were being made, the miners gave three groans for the Sheriff and the officers of the mine, and three cheers for the soldiers. No resistance was made by those arrested. Bail to the amount of twenty thousand dollars has been offered for the release of the prisoners. It was not accepted.

By Wednesday the Calumet and Hecla mines will be at work again. Mr. Agassiz, President of these, arrived here to-day, and will either start the miners to work or eject them from their houses at once. Should the latter be the case, it is hard to say what the result would be with the other mines, as all those now at work are awaiting the issues of the Calumet and Hecla strike. The strikers resumed their labors with the understanding that they should receive whatever was agreed upon by the Calumet and Hecla mines.

PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

DETROIT, May 21.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly this morning the debate was resumed on the question changing the mode of representation in the Assembly. Numerous amendments were offered, but the whole subject was finally recommitted to the same committee, with instructions to report next year. The discussion showed clearly that the Assembly is overwhelmingly opposed to Syndical representation, even with the safeguards proposed by the committee.

The special committee to whom the majority and minority reports of the committee of benevolence and finance had been referred, have recommended the appointment of a committee of fifteen, composed largely of laymen of financial skill, and to be located in New York, whose care it shall be to promote systematic bevevolence among the churches and to whom funds may be sent, if preferred, for distribution to the several boards.

The standing committee on home missions have reported, recommending a sum of $450,000 as needed to be raised for home missions for the ensuing year.

—Washington specials say the Foreign Relations Committee is quietly engaged investigating the circumstances connected with the premature publication of the Washington treaty correspondence. Experience has proved the futility of attempts to get information from newspaper correspondents. Hence the committee have hit upon a novel plan of investigating the Senate itself. They began with the members of the committee, and will soon examine each member of the Senate, and will call upon each one to produce his copy of the correspondence or prove that he has it in his possession.

THE ST. CLAIR FLATS CANAL.

OTTAWA, CANADA, May 21.—In the House last night Stephenson moved an address for the correspondence respecting the seizure by the United States customs officials of a steam tug and barge, the property of Hiram Little, in the St. Clair Flats Canal.

Sir John McDonald said there could be no objection to this motion being granted. The United States authorities gave up Little's vessel without demanding costs. As regards the canal, the treaty did not in any way deal with the boundary in these waters. Under the treaty of 1863 all channels between the islands situated in the Lawrence were free to both nations, and still remained free, no matter whether they were on the Canada or American side of the boundary. The Americans, he believed, made the canal under the impression that it was in their own territory. If the map signed by Porto and Barclay, the two English commissioners, was correct, the canal was undoubtedly within American territory. Some of the law officers of England had expressed the opinion that that map was conclusive evidence on the question of the boundary. On that opinion Her Majesty's Government was bound to act, and therefore it settled the question. The treaty gave us the use of the canal on precisely the same terms as to American citizens. If the honorable member could show by Porter and Barclay's map that the canal was on our territory, we could still assert our right to it; for the treaty in no way affected our boundary right.

Mackenzie contended that the canal question was simply another piece of sharp practice on the part of our American neighbors.

After some further discussion, the motion was carried.

MEXICO.

THE PEOPLE DISSATISFIED WITH JUAREZ.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 15.—The people are dissatisfied at the refusal of Juarez to give up his dictatorial powers, which expired on April 30th. Juarez persists in keeping the States under military rule. The struggle in Congress over the bill granting simple faculties to the Executive continues, and the result is doubtful. During the sitting yesterday the oppositionists retired and left the House without a quorum. Unless Congress pass ample faculties and finance bills the tenure of the Juarists will be precarious.

REMARKABLE SCENE.

A remarkable scene occurred in Congress on the night of the 2d, caused by a speech made by Alcalde on the simple faculties bill. The Speaker of the House interrupted Alcalde, declaring that the character of his speech rendered a secret session necessary, and ordered the galleries to be cleared. The people in the gallery refused to leave, and soldiers appeared to enforce the Speaker's orders, whereupon Alcalde said, "Those who failed to attack the French, attack the people. As the people are compelled to leave, we will accompany them." Alcalde and others then left the hall. The remaining members then went into secret session.

OBERLIN.

National Christian Association.

OBERLIN, O., May 21.—The National Christian Association, opposed to secret societies, held a prayer meeting this morning in the Second Congregational church, where its sessions are to be held. A large number of delegates are present. The most prominent delegates declare it to be their belief that the Association will make a nominee for the Presidency; the probable candidates are Grant, Greeley, Philo Carpenter, of Chicago, and J. Blanchard, of Wheaton, Illinois. The Association assembled at the Second Cogregational church at 2 P. M., and was called to order by President J. Blanchard, of Wheaton, Illinois.

A brief address of welcome was offered by President Blanchard, of Oberlin College, in which he assured the delegation that they would here find sympathy with opposition to secret societies, though they might not find perfect smpathy with their method.

Rev. Mr. Langton, of Michigan, was appointed temporary moderator, and the convention organized by the election of President Blanchard as moderator, and one Vice-President from each of the fifteen States represented.

Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 21.—The Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment of the I. O. O. F. met in semi-annual communication in this city to-day. The reports of the grand officers show the order to be in a most flourishing condition. The number of active working lodges is reported at 355; whole number of contributing members in the State, 20,180; receipts for six months $113,000; paid for relief of members and other charitable purposes for the same period $35,000.

MISSOURI.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Missouri met here to-day. There is a large attendance, and all the grand officers are present except one. There are over ten thousand contributing members of the order in the State; revenue, $8,600; total assets, over $250,000; relief furnished during the year, over $501,000.

CHICAGO.

Attempted Tripple Murder.

CHICAGO, May 21.—A singular attempt at a tripple murder was made last night, about twelve o'clock, at the corner of Harrison and Fifth avenues. Three men, who had been drinking together in a beer saloon, started for home about that hour, when a man, whom they all deny ever having seen before, suddenly sprang upon them, and with a large knife stabbed each in turn, inflicting a serious wound on each victim, and one, it is thought, will prove fatal. The man was subsequently arrested, who confessed to having done the deed, but he gave no reason for it.

COLUMBUS.

Trial of a Murderer.

COLUMBUS, O., May 21.—The trial of Jno. Barclay for the murder of Chas. Garner, commenced to-day. Most of the day was spent in empannelling a jury. Sixty witnesses are to be examined. The details of the murder are very sickening. Barclay was an old friend of Garner's, and had been employed by him. One evening he secreted himself in Garner's wagon, and when in the shadow of a bridge, near this city, he suddenly struck Garner with a hammer, fracturing his scull, making a wound from which he died in a few days.

Troubles in the Indian Country.

WASHINGTON, May 21, 1872.

FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

Although the House passed the Senate resolution to adjourn on the 29th of May, some members, together with Senators, say the time will have to be extended in order that the Senate may transact the necessary business.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

Indian Agent Risley telegraphs from Fort Laramie, on the 18th, stating that on Friday evening last, four miles from the Red Cloud agency, John Richard killed Yellow Bear, and was in turn killed by Yellow Bear's friends. The excitement over the affair is intense, and there were threats of destruction against the agency and against the whites and half-breeds. A company of cavalry has camped near the agency. Richards had the agency official mail, which was destroyed.

The Indian agent telegraphs from Fort Benton that the reports of a Sioux war and general outbreak are totally unfounded. The best of good feeling and disposition towards the Government and citizens prevails.

BILLS SIGNED.

The President has signed the following bills: To authorize the issue of arms to the authorities of the Territory of Montana; to enable the city of Denver to purchase certain lands in Colorado for a cemetery; to grant American registers to the Hawaiian bark, Florence; to regulate the mode of making private contracts with Indians; to reduce the limits of the military reservation at Ft. Stanton, New Mexico.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

Clear weather will contine over the New England, Middle and South Atlantic States, with winds veering to easterly and southerly; cloudy and threatening weather prevail from Tennessee south-westward and northward to the upper lakes region, with rain and southerly winds, and probably extend to the north-western portion of the Middle States. Dangerous winds are not anticipated.

AMERICAN HOMEOPATHIC INSTITUTE.

The twenty-fifth session of the American Institute of Homeopathy met in this city this morning at Lincoln Hall. One hundred and eighty members, from nearly all the States, were present. The Institute was called to order by the President, Dr. J. T. Talbott, of Boston. The address of welcome was delivered by Dr. Verdi, of this city.

NOMINATIONS.

The President sent to the Senate the following nominations: Register of Land Office, Benj. F. Smith, at Redwood Falls, Minn.; Receiver of Public Moneys, W. H. Kelly, at Redwood Falls, Minn.

BUFFALO.

Reception of the German Composer—Report on the Naval Cadetship.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 21.—The German composer, Franz Abt, received an enthusiastic welcome to-day from his countrymen in this city. The different German singing societies have arranged a grand programme for his entertainment while here.

NAVAL CADETSHIP.

The Board of Examiners appointed by Hon. Wm. Williams, to select a young man to fill the naval cadetship at his disposal, reported to-day in favor of James M. Quigley, the son of a poor laboring man.

THE STATE.

CRAWFORD.—Hon. S. Newton Pettis has declined to be a candidate for Congress, and H. L. Richmond, Esq., will likely receive the nomination.

FAYETTE.—Not one Greeley Republican in Fayette.——The Southwestern Railway will be finally located through Uniontown, or thereabouts.——The Baptist Church on Fayette street, Uniontown, has given W. W. Hickman a unanimous call as pastor, and he has accepted.——The Genius says: "We counted seven iron men at the McClelland House on Tuesday evening. Mr. Jones, of Jones & Laughlin's, Pittsburgh, Messrs. Graff and Macrum, of Everson, Graff & Macrum, Pittsburgh, Mr. A. P. Mitchell, of Stewart Furnace, and three other gentlemen whose names we did not learn. We understand the gentlemen from Pittsburgh are prospecting for furnace sites. Verily old Fayette's day of prosperity seems near at hand."

NORTHUMBERLAND.—Benneville Lohr, of Jackson township, this county, committed suicide on the 2d inst., by shooting himself. He was aged about 35 years. The deceased was somewhat deranged, the cause of which was attributed to an investment in the "Chester Coal Mines," which proved a failure. He leaves a wife and three children.——The woods' fires are still raging throughout the coal regions, but thus far the damage to coal operation has been inconsiderable.——There are now two men in the Schuylkill county prison awaiting trial on a charge of murder. They are Joseph Brown, charged with the murder of Kreamer, in Washington township, and Cornelius Clifford, charged with the murder of Cook, on the Mt. Carbon bridge.

LAWRENCE.—Patriotism is at a discount in New Castle. The proposed concert for the purpose of defraying the expenses of decorating the soldiers' graves has been indefinitely postponed, on account of the inability to interest a sufficient force of musical talent in the undertaking.——The subscribers to the stock of the New Castle and Franklin Railroad held a meeting on Saturday. There was a contract made between the New Castle and Franklin R. R. Co. and the Beaver Valley R. R. Co. that the N. C. & F. R. R. Co. should make connection with the B. V. R. R. Co. at or near their depot; that the road to be built by the N. C. & F. R. R. Co. should not be leased, sold, transferred, or placed in the control of any party, by act of the company, for the period of five years after the completion thereof; and the said N. C. & F. R. R. Co. reserved the right to connect with any other road or roads now built or to be built at either end or intermediate points.——To secure the performance and observation of which contract and the building of the road, a bond for forty thousand dollars was entered into by the N. C. & F. R. R. Co., conditioned in the usual manner to be void upon faithful performance. This agreement was submitted and ratified by an almost unanimous vote of those present, there being but 20 dissenting votes out of 2,198. The directors held their meeting in the afternoon when George C. Reis, Esq. of New Castle was elected Vice President vice Springer Harbaugh, Esq., of Pittsburgh, resigned. A. Vandevort was appointed Chief Engineer. Several vacancies in the Board of Directors were also filled. The treasurer was instructed to collect all balances on the first payment of stock and to give notice that the second would be due on the 15th.

WASHINGTON.—A strike was made among the miners at Morgan & Lambert's lower works, last week, near California. They wanted three and a half cents per bushel but before the close of the week the most of them went to work again at three cents.——Moses Collins, supposed to have been one hundred years old, and at one time a slave, owned by John McMillan, D. D., founder of Jefferson College, died a few days since in this county.——Mr. John Evans (Yankee John), brother of Nelson Evans, of Webster, has unexpectedly returned to gladden the hearts of his friends, after an absence of nine years, during which time he has not been heard of by them, and they had given him up as dead. He has been traveling extensively in South America.——A military company composed of colored men has been organized in Monongahela City.——The Good Templars will hold their annual convention at Monongahela City to-day.——The Monongahela Republican distances all competitors with this story. There is in this county a dog that can sing. We state this on the testimony of all the members of the family of the gentleman who owns him. The animal in question is a large, mouse-colored greyhound—perhaps about six years old. His attempts at singing, though they are, certainly, not very musical, are unmistakable, and they have been observed by the family for the last two or three years. He does not sing alone, but when he hears certain members of the family singing, he joins in. This is more particularly the case with one lady in the house, who if she begins to sing when the dog is anywhere about the place, is pretty certain to hear a canine accompaniment. If she is heard singing up stairs, and the dog is shut out below, he will raise a rumpus until he is admitted to the room where she is, when he will "join in," keeping very good time, and keeping—so we are assured—on the same key, rising with the singer to the higher notes, in a kind of blended howl and whine, that is neither like the notice of a dog nor anything else, but, showing something of a musical ear. When he reaches a note too high for him, he will stop and wait for the cadence of the song to reach the lower notes again. In his rising notes, he lifts his head as well as his voice. When his owner enters the room, he will suddenly stop, and not another note can be got out of him while his master remains. In fact, he dislikes to have any one present except the one with whom he sings.

THE total earnings of the Central Ohio Railroad for the year ending June 30th, 1871, was $974,994.16; expenses, $739,351.41; net earnings, $235,133.12. There were killed during the same period, 8 horses, 39 cattle, 45 sheep, 1 colt, 1 mule and 5 hogs, for which was paid $476. Persons killed, 8; wounded, 4.

POLITICAL.

Official Notice to Mr. Greeley of the Liberal Republican Nomination.

CINCINNATI, May 3, 1872.—Dear Sir: The National Convention of Liberal Republicans of the United States has instructed the undersigned, the President, Vice President and Secretaries of the Convention, to inform you that you have been nominated as the candipate of the Liberal Republicans for the Presidency of the United States. We also submit to you the address and resolutions unanimously adopted by the convention. Be pleased to signify to us your acceptance of the platform and nomination, and believe us, very truly yours. Signed—C. Schurz, President; George W. Julian, Vice President; Wm. E. McLean, John G. Davidson, and J. H. Rhodes, Secretaries.

Horace Greeley, New York City.

MR. GREELEY'S REPLY.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Gentlemen: I have chosen not to acknowledge your letter of the 3d instant until I could learn how the work of your convention was received in all parts of the country, and judge whether that work was approved and ratified by the mass of our fellow-citizens. Their response has from day to day reached me through telegrams, letters and comments of journalists independent of official patronage and indifferent to the smiles and frowns of power. The number and character of these unconstrained, unpurchased and unsolicited utterances satisfy me that the movement which found expression at Cincinnati has received the stamp of public approval and been hailed by a majority of our countrymen as a harbinger of a better day for the Republic. I do not misinterpret this approval as especially complimentary to myself, nor even to the chivalrous and justly esteemed gentleman with whose name I thank your convention for associating mine. I receive and welcome it as a spontaneous and deserved tribute to that admirable platform of principles wherein your Convention so tersely, so lucidly, so forcibly set forth the convictions which impelled and the purposes which guided its course—a platform which, casting behind it the wreck and rubbish of worn out conventions and by-gone feuds, embodies in fit and few words the needs and aspirations of to-day. Though thousands stand ready to condemn your every act, hardly a syllable of criticism or cavil has been aimed at your platform, of which the substance may be fairly epitomized as follows:

First—All political rights and franchises which have been acquired through our late bloody convulsion must and shall be guaranteed, maintained, endorsed and respected ever more.

Second—All political rights and franchises which have been lost through that convulsion should and must be promptly restored and re-established, so that there shall be henceforth no prescribed class and no disfranchised caste within the limits of our Union, whose long estranged people shall reunite and fraternize upon the broad basis of universal amnesty, with impartial suffrage.

Third, That subject to our solemn Constitutional obligations to maintain the equal rights of all citizens, our policy should aim at local self-government, and not at centralization; that civil authority should be supreme over military; that the writ of habeas corpus should be jealously upheld as a safeguard of personal freedom; that the individual citizen should enjoy the largest liberty consistent with public order; and that there shall be no federal subversion of the internal policy of the several States and municipalities, but that each shall be left free to enforce rights and promote the well being of its inhabitants by such means as the judgment of its own people shall prescribe.

Fourth—There shall be a real, and not merely a simulated, reform in the civil service of the Republic, to which end it is indispensable that the chief dispenser of its vast official patronage shall be shielded from the main temptation to use his power selfishly, and as a rule inexorably forbidding and precluding his re-election.

Fifth—That the raising of revenue, whether by tariff or otherwise, shall be recognized and treated as the people's immediate business, to be shaped and directed by them through their representatives in Congress, whose action thereon the President must neither overrule by his veto, attempt to dictate, nor presume to punish by bestowing office only on those who agree with him, or withdrawing it from those who do not.

Sixth—That the public lands must be sacredly reserved for occupation and acquisition by cultivators, and not recklessly squandered on projectors of railroads, for which our people have no present need, and the premature construction of which is annually plunging us into deeper and deeper abysses of foreign indebtedness.

Seventh—That the achievement of these grand purposes of universal beneficence is expected and sought at the hands of all who approve them, irrespective of past affiliations.

Eighth—That the public faith must at all hazards be maintained and the national credit preserved.

Ninth—That the patriotic devotedness and inestimable services of our fellow-citizens who as soldiers or sailors upheld the flag and maintained the unity of the Republic shall ever be gratefully remembered and honorably acquitted.

These propositions, so ably and forcibly presented in the platform of your convention, have already fixed attention and commanded the assent of a large majority of our countrymen, who joyfully adopt them, as I do, as the basis of a true, beneficent national reconstruction of a new departure from the jealousies, strifes and hate which haves no longer an adequate motive or even a plausible pretext in an atmosphere of peaces fraternity and mutual good will. In vain do the drill sergeants of the decaying organizations flourish menacingly their truncheons and angrily insist that the files shall be closed and strengthened. In vain do the whippers-in of parties once vital, because rooted in the vital needs of the hour, protest against straying and bolting, denounce men nowise their inferiors as traitors and renegades, and threaten them with infamy and ruin. I am confident that the American people have already made your cause their own, fully resolved that their brave hearts and strong arms shall bear it on to triumph. In this faith and with the distinct understanding that if elected, I shall not be President of a party, but of the whole people. I accept your nomination, in confident trust that the masses of our countrymen, North and South, are eager to clasp hands across the bloody chasm which has too long divided them, forgetting that they have been enemies in joyful consciousness, and that they are now and must henceforth remain brethren.

Yours, gratefully,

(Signed.) HORACE GREELEY.

To Hon. Carl Schurz, President; Hon. George W. Julian, Vice President, and Wm. E. McLean, John G. Davidson and J. H. Rhodes, Secretaries of the National Convention of Liberal Republicans of the United States.

Greeley's Unpopularity in the South.

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 21.—The Daily Press of this city will to-morrow morning contain an editorial article authoritatively denying the statement that General J. C. Breckenridge has announced his intention to support Mr. Greeley.

RAILROAD NEWS.

[From the York Republican.]

THE Directors of the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad appeared before the authorities of Washington a few days ago asking for certain favors. To enforce their claim they presented the following statement as to how a new and independent road could be secured between Washington and New York:

"The Baltimore and Potomac Road is part and parcel of the Pennsylvania Central, and so will the proposed "National Marland Railroad" become, if it shall ever be built. Both run into the Northern Central, a tributary of the Pennsylvania Central, and neither can ever get beyond that controlling influence. The Metropolitan Road, and the Washington Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad are in the same category, as belonging to another great corporation. But that an independent outlet was now presented to them via the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad, the Hanover Branch Railroad, and the proposed road from Hanover Junction to Columbia, (which the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company are prepared to complete, as soon as a disposition is shown by any parties whatever to build the connection between this city and Washington,) to Philadelphia and by the Allentown route to New York, thus placing Washington, with a controlling influence, at the Southern terminus of the long sought and much coveted Inland Air Line between the National Metropolis and New York City."

That there is something in this scheme is confirmed by the following notice which we clip from the Columbia Courant:

"The Directors of the Hanover Junction and Susquehanna Railroad Company, R. T. Ryan, of this place, President, have resolved to open books for subscription to the capital stock of said Company, at the public house of Henry Hantz, in the borough of Wrightsville, on the 4th, 5th and 6th of June next.

[Columbus, Ohio, Journal.]

A meeting of the Columbus and Ferraro Railroad Company, was held in this city on Thursday to talk over the whole question of building the road, and to listen to reports.

The surveying engineer of the road, Mr. Webb, reported that after a careful survey of the most difficult portions of the proposed route he was fully satisfied that there was nothing impracticable about it, but that on the contrary he regarded it as the most practical route to the coal fields.

After some discussion the engineer and Mr. Thomas Miller, of this city, were authorized to complete the survey of the entire line.

This route intersects the Newark and Straitsville road at Somerset, which is but fourteen miles from the centre of the coal region. So, when this much needed improvement is completed the whole distance to these black diamond mines will be but fifty-four miles. It is to be hoped that those interested in the improvement of the south and east portions of this city will do what they deem to be their full duty to assist in the building of this road. The wealth is at our very doors, and a failure on our part to assist in its development will be our loss and some other locality's gain.

THE Legislature of Ohio has passed a law authorizing counties, towns and cities to build railroads, provided each project be submitted to a popular vote, and secure a majority of two-thirds of all the voters. The funds for the construction of said road may be raised by borrowing a sum not exceeding five per cent. on the amount of personal and real estate actually listed for taxation. This legislation was intended to develop local railroad enterprises upon the narrow gauge basis. The limitations imposed upon this power, however, will render it impossible to carry out a scheme of corrupt ring interests. It is more likely that many deserving enterprises will fail for lack of the two-thirds vote.

THE Cross-Cut Railroad, from Corry to Brocton, says the Titusville Herald, has been gobbled up by the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern. We are tempted to ask "where is Tom Scott?" but it is not necessary—Thomas only buys up paying roads, and of course would not have any thing to do with this, as it has been a losing concern from the start. Perhaps as a feeder to the Lake Shore it may be made to pay running expenses. The Corry Blade goes into hysteries over the change, and predict all sorts of grand things for that place by the move. Well, we hope the Blade's "great expectations" will be realized, for the town needs some help.

O. S. WINANS is to sever his connection with the Erie Railway on the first day of June next. Mr. W. has been connected with the road as cashier and agent for the last twenty years.

"THE prohibitory duties we levy upon all articles of foreign manufacture, which prudence requires us to establish at home, secures us against relapse and foreign dependency."—Jefferson.

WE SHALL THANK our country readers for any information they may send us relative to the crop prospects. Their letters need not be long, so that they give accurate intelligence, they will prove of interest to our readers.

"WE know Negley would not countenance any job, nor attach himself to any ring, or agree to be the mouth-piece of any corporation or stock jobbing operation.—Post.

We hardly expected even so much praise from one who has persistently villified and misrepresented General Negley. Praise from an enemy, is praise indeed. We thank the Post for the words, if not for the intentions.

OUT OF THE 290 delegates already selected to attend the Republican National Convention, but six are government officers, and three of these six are from districts so intensely Democratic and therefore ignorant, that their selection was almost a necessity. The Philadelphia convention will be almost wholly composed of fresh representatives of the people, and they will reflect the all-pervading sentiment of the mass of the party in placing General Grant—the successful soldier and statesman—again in nomination for the highest office in the land. This is clearly proven in the almost unparalleled fact, that he has no opponent for the position. Nowhere, we believe, has the name of one single contestant for the nomination appeared, and he stands to-day within the party without opposition.

OUR GOOD neighbor, the Chronicle, in an article on the political situation, used the following language: "Take the regular Republican papers. They support Grant, but they do not do so with warmth, and they seem to be at times a little apprehensive as to the result." We must confess that with a rather extensive daily reading of the Republican papers, we are bound to dissent wholly from this view of the matter. Our information and statement is, on the contrary, that the Republican press was never in the history of the country, more unanimous or hearty in support of a possible nominee. General Grant has not yet been nominated, although no one doubts that he will be. It is therefore hardly time for "enthusiasm," such as our neighbor mourns the absence of, but for hearty, cordial, fervent support, the Republican press, those of it which are deemed within the party, are certainly not in the least lukewarm or uncertain. We predict that after Grant's nomination, the country will witness a spontaneous and enthusiastic expression of confidence and earnest support for the nominees, and an entire devotion to the principles and the success of our party. The time for this "warmth" has not yet come; but surely it will not be doubted that it exists. The Republican press is a unit for Grant.

TAXATION—REVENUE.

The House of Representatives has finally adopted the Senate bill to adjourn on Wednesday, the 29th of May. There is much necessary work to be done between now and then. The civil and military appropriations are yet undecided; the bill granting additional members of Congress to several States; the steamboat bill, and many other important measures are still pending in one or other of the branches. The House has done rapid and unsatisfactory work in promptly passing the tinkered tariff bill, for good or bad it seemed an almost endless job. The reductions in duties at the present session will reach fully FIFTY MILLIONS, but many mistakes have been made, in the hurry to get through. A general reduction has been made on the tariff rates of ten per cent., amounting to about thirty millions, which, with the increase of the free list and the repeal of the tea and coffee tax, will bring up the total to the amount stated. We published the list yesterday of the articles most affected by the new tariff, and among them we find iron, salt, coal, steel, wool and copper have all been put through the mill of the Revenue Reformers. The tariff on iron will bring $1,370,000 less revenue hereafter than under the old law; that on coal $215,000; on salt $415,000; on wool and woolen manufactures $3,350,000; on steel $489,000, and on copper and manufactures of copper a smaller reduction has been made.

We suppose the free-traders and importers are satisfied, now that they have measurably succeeded in reducing the tariff, and permitting a further importation of foreign manufactures in competition with our own. Their old argument, we suppose, will hold good, viz: that the price of iron, wool, steel, coal and salt will correspondingly fall in price. But we shall see how this nice theory will work in practice.

As in nearly all important legislation, which is determined in a spirit of compromise, there are some good things, with much that is bad, and harmful, in these latest revenue bills. For instance the uniformity of the tax on tobacco is to be recommended, as the government, was, doubtless, often swindled under the old complex system arranged according to gauge or quality of the weed. Hereafter all tobacco, of whatever kind, will pay a tax of twenty cents per pound. This was fixed in accordance with the views of the Commissioner of Revenue, and was persistently opposed by the lobby interest. One of the best features of this bill is that which permits any manufacturer of tobacco to make and ship his goods wherever and whenever he wishes, by affixing thereto the proper stamps.

Referring again to the House tariff bill, it is a little singular that those men who clamor for a tariff for revenue, as against one for protection to home industry, can be found voting for reduction of duty on such importations as "currants, figs and raisins" to the amount of $1,000,000, and on tin—exclusively of foreign production—amounting to another million. There are many other peculiarities in this bill, but on the whole, we believe the general industries have not been injuriously affected. Congress appears bent on cutting down the government incomes, but dosen't yet know the best place to begin at. The country is TOO RICH; too much money is getting into its coffers, and it is necessary to reduce taxation, but let the reduction be just, and as far as possible relieve all alike.

ADULTERATION OF TOBACCO AND BEER.

A rather interesting account is given of adulterations in tobacco and beer, as having been discovered in England during the past few years. To lovers of these commodities this may be very startling. Adulteration of articles of food is wrong, and a matter that should meet with very severe penalties in the administration of justice; but we cannot help being amused at the ingredients discovered in this tobacco and beer. Having no sympathies with those who use these "luxuries," in any form, we think it only right to enlighten our readers on the subject for their benefit and guidance. Out of about five hundred samples of tobacco that were examined, upwards of three hundred were found to contain wheat, rice, starch, sugar, licorice, lampblack, and coloring matter of a nondescript character.

Now these are not very deleterious substances of themselves; and the question is whether they are not better, or less harmful, than the real cavendish, this being the kind most practised upon.

With regard to the beer, an examination gave nine out of fourteen samples adulterated with sugar, molasses, ground rice, licorice-powder, grains of paradise, and, in some instances, tobacco. Thus, as the report states, "sixty-five per cent. of the samples tested were found to be sophisticated." How many of the consumers of these articles are unsophisticated? But this is not all. The vendor had still to "doctor" the article, and we can well fancy the refreshing effect this would have on some "unsophisticated" Teuton's parched throat on a hot summer's day. What sums of money are wasted on these villainous compounds? If men would only forego these little pleasures, or, to our idea, pains, how much better they would be, physically and mentally.

If these simple articles are adulterated, what must the whiskey be? How foolish a man would feel if he only knew he had been spending an hour or so smoking lamp-black, and his money going to enable him to swallow tobacco—a deadly poison! Think of these things, smokers and drinkers, and take what comfort you can; but there is an old adage, "Whilst there are fools, there will be rogues."

AS OTHERS SEE US.

It must be very interesting to Europeans to watch the political contests of this country, more particularly as to the choice of a President.

It must also be a matter of surprise to them, as it certainly is to all thinkers on the subject, that the mass of people here in this broad land never seem to know when they are well off.

These periodical struggles remind us very much of the fable of the Frogs who wanted a King; who were never satisfied until they found that the oftener they changed, the worse they got. So it is here; a man of sterling worth is of no account until we have lost him, and then only can we see the good he would have done when the wound is past healing. Did any republican form of government ever succeed by its oft repeated change of rulers? Has it not always been found that the purest minded men, when autocratic power came upon them, were swallowed in a whirlpool of egotism and self-conceit? whilst yet darker, and more dreadful feelings urged them to lose all respect and confidence by a sudden eagerness for uncontrolled power.

What chance has a country, that needs first-class legislation, and a firm, steady hand at the helm of State, when torn by political factions, and the ship laid one day under a gale of Democracy, and the next under a storm of miscalled Liberal Republicanism? This does not come from patriotism, from a desire for the country's advancement, but from the chicanery of our political leaders. Men whose sole ambition seems to be—not having ability or popularity enough themselves for place and power—to foist upon the masses some puppet under the cloak of the country's welfare, and by laying aside all pretence of self-aggrandisement, make believe they are the benefactors of the country, and secretly, with a grin on their faces, pull the wires, to which their puppet is attached, and thus virtually rule themselves. Beware! all pure-minded Republicans; beware! all good Democrats, of those wolves in sheep's clothing. Don't let any miscalled Liberalism lead you out of the straight path; as it will lead to destruction. These things happened in the days of ancient Greece and Rome, and the story is known to every school boy. This party warfare, this oft-repeated change of rulers may drift us rapidly on the rocks of Monarchism, and our noble ship will thereby be wrecked. There are thousands of voters, honest men in this country, who never use their franchise, out of pure disgust, and the number is increasing with each year. Is not this last disgraceful farce at Cincinnati enough to cause all honest men to blush with shame? The nominators of Horace Greeley tell us he is honest; surely the mantle of Diogenes must have fallen upon this convention, or perhaps it was his lantern, kindly furnished by the spirits, that guided them through the darkness and mist, and they must surely have mistaken the poor philosopher's hat for an indication from the spirits, as to whom they should nominate. But we must not jest, the crisis is too great for levity, and we would earnestly urge all who love their country, all who have patriotism at heart, all who despise sycophancy, to rally round the true standard bearer of Republicanism, help him to unfurl the blood-stained banner to the breeze, to the end, that, as Grant led our hosts to victory, he may lead this country, this noble ship into a haven of peace, that again united we should become strong, and, as a free people, be a pattern to all, that Republicanism should be the watch-word, not the bye-word of the old world. Let all mere party spirit be thrown aside, and all good citizens unite in one common cause. The danger is great, the enemy is at our gates, and remember at election day:

"The evil that men do, live after them,
The good is oft inter'd with their bones."

SILENT MAJORITY IN NOVEMBER.

The New York Nation was the warmest supporter of the Cincinnati movement and its editor wielded his powerful pen unceasingly in the "good cause;" but that was some time ago. He don't see the matter in the same light now and is moved to say:

"The opinion is gaining ground that the sober common sense of the people is at work on Greeley's case, and not in his favor, and that he will be repudiated by an enormous but silent majority in November—the "average man," however much he may enjoy the Tribune and admire its editor, being by no means prepared to hand the government of the Republic over either to "honest Horace," "honest old Horace," or "the Sage of Chappaqua," or "the later Franklin," or "the typical American," or to take it for granted that anybody who wears "a white hat" or "white coat" must be a statesman.

"People say a great many wild things," said a very shrewd politician to us the other day, "but they do not say them in court, with their right hand up, and there will be a great deal of admiration expended on Greeley's old clothes and "big brains" between now and November by men who will take care not to show it at the polls."

"In other words the greatest blatherskite among us has a little property and loves his country, and will feel that, as good a man as Greeley is, he wants that fundamental title to human confidence which consists in furnishing by his daily conduct trustworthy material for a judgment as to what he will do next."

THE MAGAZINES.

The magazines for June, seem to have taken upon them the breezy freshness of the month of roses, and are filled with an unusual variety of attractive articles.

Harper's, which somehow naturally falls into rank at the head of the list, opens with a readable article on the "German Gambling Spas," which is accompanied with illustrations; all the serials are continued. There is an excellent review of "John Wesley and his Times," and Emilio Castelar, contributes his first paper on "the Republican movement in Europe." The Easy Chair has something to say of the "modern tendency of Opera," and the remainder of the list of contents is filled up with poetry, and shorter articles.

The Galaxy has a dozen good articles outside of the usual amount of editorial miscellany. Perhaps the most important papers are "Sir Charles Dilkes and the English Republicans" by Justin McCarthy. "The Woman Movement in Wyoming." "Modern Languages in American Colleges" and a very interesting sketch of English social life, by Albert Rhodes. The poetry of the number is by Nora Perry, Miss Woodson and Mrs. Ritter.

Scribner's has the second paper of Richardson's "Travelling by Telegraph," profusely illustrated with scenes which every traveller over our railroads in the mountains of Central Pennsylvania will recall. Whitelaw Reid has an essay on "Schools of Journalism." Warner's 'Back Log Studies' are rich as any of their predecessors. There are altogether fifty-three illustrations. Hilgard's advance of population in the United States will especially attract attention for the great information contained in it.

The American Church Review stands confessedly in the front rank of the very best quarterlies of the times. Its contents, always, aside from the dignity of the subjects treated of, are especially attractive for the vigor and purity of the composition, and their comprehension of the best thoughts of the theological schools. The number just received has two very interesting articles on "Christianity and the Old Testament," and the "Council and the State," which are worthy of particular mention.

Lippincott's presents this array: 1. Scrambles amongst the Alps. 2. Constantinople, illustrated. 3. Always; a Florida Lyric, by W. W. Hanney. 4. The Strange Adventures of a Phaeton; a serial novel, by William Black. 5. Pierre Bonsard; by Kate Hilliar. 6. A Draft on the Bank of Spain; a story. 7. The Great Idea; by Hon. Chas. K. Tuckerman. 8. Aytoun; a serial novel, chaps. XI and XII; conclusion. 9. Private Art Collections of Philadelphia; by E. S. Mr. Samuel B. Fale's collection. 10. Carcassone; from the French of Gustave Nadand; by J. R. Thompson. 11. London Clubs; by Reignaid Wynford. 12. Our Monthly Gossip; "though Hell's Glen to Inverary;" Thackeray as a showman, etc. 13. Literature of the day.

Woods' Household Magazine is filled with reading matter which will attract attention, and cause pleasure around many a family fireside. The June number contains articles from Gail Hamilton, Horace Greeley, Thomas K. Beecher, Harriet Prescott Spofford, James Parton and others of lesser note, on topics of the times.

The Popular Science Monthly.—The second number of this new magazine gives promise that the object of its originators—the dissemination of knowledge on scientific subjects in a readable and attractive form—will be accomplished. The dozen papers in which these heavy subjects are treated of are all interesting, and not one dull or labored. The present number contains a number of fine illustrations.

Demorest's contains the usual variety of light literature, romances and poetry, intermingled with the latest fashion news. In this number "Beck at the Farm," a new home story is commenced. If people must have a fashion magazine, Demorest's is the one to get.

The Sunday Magazine and Good Words are on time. The magazine contains a number of thoughtful articles in relation to theological subjects; while a lightness is given to the collection, by several poetical and prose selections of a generally attractive character. Good Words is filled with with good words for all, who can appreciate instruction pleasantly blended with literary entertainment.

The Bureau contains a vast amount of "solid fact" in relation to the business of the country, and is well worthy a place in the counting room of every merchant, or a place in the home of every manufacturer and workingman in the land. The number for May is unusually good.

Fine Arts.—The June number is the third of this new publication which emanates from New York and is "Devoted to Fine Arts and the Polite World." Its typographical execution is excellent and the illustrations fair. The reading matter will doubtless suit the "polite world."

Old and New.—The current number for June completes volume 5. The opening paper is a discussion of the "Indirect Claims." Then comes another installment of "The Vicar's Daughter." The conclusion is reached in "six of one and a half a dozen of the other." "Living in Germany" is entertaining, and all the shorter pieces will be found of interest.

St. Pauls.—The most interesting article in the current number is "Child Life as seen by the Poets," which contains many quaint fancies. "Love in Heaven," gives some dessertations from a Swedenborg standpoint. "The Body and the Character" is an argument, to shew the necessity for a sound body, to ensure the greatest success in life. The serials of Hawthorne and Jean Ingelow are continued.

Good Words for the Young is at hand, filled with pleasant and profitable reading for the youthful fraternity. A "Dessert Plate's Autibiography" is perhaps the best paper, as it mingles delightfully, instruction and entertainment, in reference to the manufacture of that description of china ware. The schoolboy who dreads composition day will find relief in the plain practical directions contained in "Lessons in Composition."

Contemporary Review.—The May number contains: 1. The Study of Sociology. By Herbert Spencer. II. Is there a Social Science? 2. Christianity and Immortality. By the Rev. T. W. Fowler. 3. Village Communities. By Professor Nasse, of Berlin. 4. Christianity on the Continent. By the Bishop of Argyll and the Isles. 5. Optimism and Pessimism. By Professor Frohschammer. Part II. 6. John Smith and his Select Discourses. By the Rev. Principal Tulloch. 7. Rossel. By the late Joseph Mazzini.

MATTERS OF MOMENT.

THERE is a misunderstanding somewhere. Mr. Ferry, of Connecticut, was elected Senator the other day, and the result was heralded all over the county by jubilant "Liberals," as their first triumph. And yet the first matter that claims the Senator's attention after his election, is writing a letter disavowing any sympathy with the Cincinnati Convention, expressing his preference for Grant over Greeley and pronouncing the effort to elect Greeley, President, as "political madness."

BILLS of mortality are not generally attractive or entertaining subjects for consideration, but Americans will generally be interested in knowing that they have a better chance for longevity than the unfortunate inhabitants of the Old World. It has generally been considered that the reverse was the case, but recent statistics show that the death rate in Europe annually is one to every forty-two persons, while in the United States it is only one to eighty one. The following classification exhibits the average chances of a resident in different parts of the country: New England States, one in sixty-six; Middle States, one in eighty-eight; Southern States, one in seventy; Western States, one in eighty-one; Northwestern States, one in one hundred and twenty; Pacific States, one in one hundred and fifteen; Atlantic States, one in eighty; Gulf States, one in sixty-three; Mississippi Valley States, one in eighty.

VICTOR HUGO has again appeared in the literary world, and his latest production is a poem "L'Armee Terrible," which absorbs public attention in France. The war with Germany forms the basis for the poem, and upon this the versatile Frenchman has constructed a sort of literary pyramid, composed of his views in political economy, his opinion of the Second Empire, and his hatred of the German conquerors. It is made up of a series of poems, each devoted to a separate month of the year, which witnessed the humiliation of France. As usual, Hugo furiously assails everything and everybody, not in accord with his peculiar views—or ravings as some would say—but the work exhibits that same wonderful resource of invective, that inexhaustible flow of language, and the fiery poetical fervor which have made his previous productions attractive, if nothing else.

JUDGE STORER, in the Ohio Episcopal Convention the other day, took grounds against the appointment of ministers on the Finance Committee, and argued that he never knew a minister to meddle with financial matters without losing spiritual grace. Now financial matters are chief among the secular affairs which receive attention from men. Would our judicial adviser have us to understand that ministerial spirituality is of such a fine grade that it cannot exist on the plane of practical life, but requires to be removed from danger of contact with the material facts of living—lives only by breathing the upper air of theory? If such has been the Judge's experience, his ministerial associates were spiritual invalids, whose places might well have been supplied with more practical and healthier material.

THE RAPID increase of the wealth of the United States, during the last score of years seems marvellous, and the statistics seem not unlike a fairy tale. The total wealth of the people in 1850 was seven billion one hundred and thirty-five million seven hundred and sixty thousand two hundred and twenty-eight dollars, ($7,135,760,228.) In 1860 it was sixteen billion one hundred and fifty-nine million six hundred and sixteen thousand and sixty-eight dollars, ($16,159,616,068.) And in 1870, notwithstanding our destructive war, it had risen to the vast sum of twenty-nine billion nine hundred and seventy-five million seven hundred and eighty-one thousand three hundred and ten dollars, ($29,975,781,310.)

HORACE WHITE, in his Chicago Tribune, devotes a column to telling "how to make a platform." It's very easy to erect the structure after the fashion of Horace at Cincinnati. First, build up a support of disappointed hopes; balance across it the plank of personal grievances; seat a Free trader on one end of the plank and a Protectionist as a counter-weight at the other, and the platform, on the "see-saw" plan, is complete. Its gentle undulations ought to please, because there is no partiality; each side sees its own candidate uppermost at least half the time.

OF ALL the papers published in Pennsylvania, the Chicago Tribune, the Liberal organ, can only find three that it announces will support the Cincinnati nominations. They are the Allentown News, Titusville Courier and Titusville Herald; yet all that is required to bring up the wrath of the Herald man to the boiling point is to intimate that he will support the Liberal ticket.

THE caloric element has been singularly destructive of property in our State within the past fortnight. Somerset, Toby and Philadelphia will hereafter be remembered among the great conflagrations.

THE LEGISLATURE.

EDITORS GAZETTE: In my last article I endeavored to show the dignity and importance of the office of a Legislator, and gave some reasons why, in this State, the office had fallen into disrepute owing to the mode of nominations which had gradually grown up among us, leading to the selection of candidates who lacked many, or all, the proper characteristics which the office requires. With your permission, I will now present some of the evils and embarrassments resulting from this state of affairs.

In these remarks I have no particular persons in view. My observations are altogether general, and refer to the whole State. Allegheny county has had a fair average of the talent and qualifications of the members of both Houses of our Legislature. While the average has been low, there have been men in both Houses who for uprightness, fitness and capability would adorn any position. These men have been confined to no county or section, and they have usually been the ruling spirits, and could always have been so but for the influence of a powerful and corrupt lobby.

The election is over, the Legislature is in session. The average member generally soon discovers his deficiencies—though some have not sense enough for that—and he attempts nothing but to pass the bills sent him. He takes no part in any general subject affecting the interests of the State at large, or affecting any locality except his own. If he can get his own bills through, he will not object to any in the charge of other members, however reprehensible. He never originates a bill on any subject. That would be a presumption on his part which might interfere with his future aspirations. In fact the average member can seldom prepare a bill or even correct the inaccuracies of those sent him. If a local bill is sent him, and there is no home opposition to it, he sees it through, but if there is opposition he will be governed more by the strength and will of the opposing parties, than by the merits of the measure itself. When private bills are under consideration he watches those he has charge of, regardless of all others. When general bills have the precedence he usually feels little or no interest, and gives his vote for what he concludes will be the strongest side in the House unless his constituents have given a pronounced opinion on the subject.

In such a state of affairs there can be no intelligent legislation, and much is done every year which an enraged constituency require to be undone the next year, and our statute books are lumbered with a mass of crude, undigested legislation, leading to litigation and often to great hardship and loss.

Happily for the State there are always a few men of intelligence who mould the general legislation to the utmost of their power. If they are honest they stop a great many dangerous bills on their passage, and on them devolves a great amount of extra care and labor.

There are men in the Legislature of the average stamp, who have been there for years, who have never offered an opinion to the House on any subject, who have never affected legislation in the slightest manner except by their votes, and who exert no influence whatever in moulding the legislation or the opinions of the people, on any subject whatever, and yet who have an intelligent constituency, in the midst of which can be found hundreds of men who would fill the office with dignity and honor. Who is to blame in this matter? Not the member, for he has a right to aspire to the office. The blame is clearly with the constituency who choose such men to represent them, and then complain of it afterwards. The frequency of their election is an honor to the member, and usually of benefit to the constituent, unless he can improve in his selection.

In the spirit of our institutions we have recognized the necessity of frequent elections to Legislative bodies. The principle is right. The people should always have it in their power to express any change of opinion through their Legislatures. But there is no good reason why the people should send a new and untried man to represent them every time they are called upon to fill the legislative office. If they have fallen upon an inefficient or dishonest man the sooner they get rid of him the better, even if they have to change at every opportunity. But a representative is more efficient the second year than the first, and the third year than the second. The experience he has had, his acquaintance with the rules, the influence he has created for himself, give him immense power over a new member, even of good abilities who has to spend a session in learning the rules, and in acquiring confidence in himself, and in becoming acquainted with the members of the two Houses, and of the Executive Departments of the Government. An experienced, upright, capable representative is an invaluable acquisition to any constituency, either in the Legislature or in Congress, and should not be parted from for mere personal or party reasons. There has a fashion grown up in many districts and counties to give a man two terms, without any regard to his fitness. The plan is altogether wrong. It suits party leaders who wish to gratify as many persons as possible, but it is injurious to the people who are to be represented, and it weakens confidence in the perpetuity and usefulness of free institutions. If you have an inefficient or dishonest representative remove him at once. If you have secured a safe, capable, and independent man, send him as long as he will consent to go. His experience is invaluable to his constituents.

The Southern States used to exert an immense power in Congress because they kept experienced and trained men there. New England and Ohio to-day exert a power far beyond the number of their votes, for the same reason. A few counties in this State have kept the same men in the Legislature for many years, and they have a corresponding influence.

The true principle, then, to govern constituencies, as well as parties, should be to select capable and upright men to represent them, and then to avail themselves of the experience acquired in their service by keeping them as long as possible. In the long run, parties which adopt this plan will be the most prosperous. In times of peril such as we have just passed through, parties can be kept together by a sense of common danger, but where there is no spur of this kind, and party ties weaken, the party which neglects to choose as its candidates men of fitness, character and worth, will find its majorities growing continually smaller, from the disgust or indifference of its voters. A few defeats may open the eyes of those who have influence in conventions, and in party management, when it may be too late to recover lost ground.

POLITICAL NOTES.

HON. JOHN ALLISON, Registrar of the Treasury, William Waugh, D. W. Findley and J. G. White are Republican candidates for Congress in Mercer county.

ONE has only to read the editorials of any leading Democratic journal now-a-days, to see that the fight this year is to guard the positions that were carried in 1868. It is still a fight of Republicanism against Democracy, of the principles which triumphed in the rebellion against those which went under.

"THE only argument," says the World, "we have heard for endorsing Mr. Greeley by the Democratic National Convention is, that the ticket would succeed. But what would such success be worth? It would no doubt enable Mr. Greeley to distribute the Federal offices among Liberal Republicans and Democrats in such proportions as he might think expedient; but of what value are offices purchased by a sacrifice of principle? Of all the prominent public men of the country there is no one between whom and the Democratic party there is so wide and deep a gulf as between it and its life-long assailant, Horace Greeley. The difference does not relate to merely transient and temporary questions; it goes down to the very roots and philosophy of government."

BASE BALL SONG.

How dear to the heart is the green covered ball field,
Where good rival captains their men rightly place,
The pitcher, the catcher, the right field and left field,
The good men, the true men, who guard well each base,
The short stop so lively, the centre field handy,
The ball, and the striker, who aims to send high,
But dearer than all to the hearts of good fielders,
Is the leather-clad base ball we catch on the fly—
The jolly old base, the well-covered base ball,
The leather-clad base ball we catch on the fly.

PROVIDE AGAINST DANGER

At this season all the great lines of travel begin to swarm with human beings intent on business or pleasure. Are these moving multitudes aware of the danger which ensues from drinking different varieties of water and breathing atmospheres to which their lungs are unaccustomed? Do they realize how important it is to be pre-armed with an antidote that will defend their systems from the evil consequences of such changes and from all the ailments and disturbances which arise from miasma so plentifully evolved from the soil at this period of the year? Such an antidote—certain in its protective operation and free from everything objectionable in its composition and flavor—has been for twenty years before the world. No instance can be adduced, during that period, in which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has failed as an acclimating medicine, or as a preventive of the bodily ills to which the undefended system is liable in unhealthy localities.

A good appetite, perfect digestion, a vigorous condition of the nervous system, functional regularity, and a pure and active circulation, are the elements of health, and these signal blessings may be secured and perpetuated by the use of this powerful, yet harmless, vegetable tonic. Such is the experience of all who have ever taken it as a safeguard against the diseases which debility, irregularity and a morbid condition of the solids and fluids of the body are sure to invite.

Sickness of Forty Years' Duration Cured.

The cure related below is one of a very remarkable kind, on account of its long duration, and is well worthy of the attention of all those who may be afflicted with chronic disease of any kind, showing clearly that all such cases can be cured. It is that of Jacob Wagner, a respectable farmer, aged 63 years, of New Sewickley township, who has been in gradually failing health for a period of about forty years. The disease manifested itself by a continued cough and a wasting state of health, which, about the beginning of last October, culminated in an attack which showed that the lungs were becoming seriously affected. Mr. Wagner, in this state of his case, applied to Dr. Keyser, of this city, who, by a system of medicine of a restorative kind, has completely cured him and restored him to a state of health to which he has been a stranger for many long and weary years. His cure is thorough and complete, and evinces an amount of skill and perseverance in the treatment of such cases, by Dr. Keyser, which is rarely if ever attained in a life time. The cure was chiefly effected by Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure, and is another of the many instances of the wonderful restorative power of that medicine, in the cure of every disease of long standing, especially those in which the pulmonary organs and the blood are deteriorated.

Dr. Keyser's office is at 167 Liberty street, in the rear of his Drug Store, from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 until 6 P. M., and on Saturday's at night. A treatise on Lung Diseases sent wherever it is wanted.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, May 21, 1872.

The home market to-day was well supplied with money, and parties who have a good reputation for prompt payment of their paper had difficulty in obtaining all the money they asked for. What demands the banks were unable to supply were readily met by private bankers, who now, to the great benefit of the community, control a large amount of capital, and who make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the character, standing and habits of the business men of Pittsburgh and vicinity, so as to handle carefully and profitably the money entrusted to them. The Savings banks are also aiding to keep afloat the machinery of trade. There are but very few of them that cannot discount ten thousand dollars per week, and their large number, when taken collectively, furnish a large volume of money and very materially assist in the way of discounts and to a great extent keep the strain off the larger institutions, which otherwise might embarrass them and distress their customers. The low rates in the eastern cities have also a good effect in making money cheap and plenty here, as the banks that keep balances in the east, and most of our institutions do, in many instances, when money is lower there than here, get re-discounts, which enables to extend increased accommodations to their patrons. As has already been stated in these columns, all the indications are plenty of money for the next six months to come. There may be short seasons of stringency, such as are felt when the banks expect to be called on for statements, but such a thing as continued tightness in financial operations for the next half year cannot find any warrant from the present outlook. The engagement of national mind in political matters will also tend to keep down anything like superficial speculation. The fact that the decks will soon be cleared for action, and that ere the summer half runs out its course, the great battle will be begun between the hosts of the political parties for the rule of the country the ensuing four years, will make men hesitate, consider and reflect before taking hold of any new ventures, and for the time, at least, put a stop to schemes that a revolution in whole or in part of the Government might effect. The regular channels of trade will not, therefore, be interfered with, and without some kind of outside influence there will be an abundance of means for all practical purposes.

In regard to the eastern money matters the Philadelphia Ledger says:

"We continue to quote money in fair demand on call at 5½@6½ per cent. on approved collateral. Three to four months' paper, on Government or other strictly first-class collateral, from 6½ to 7½ per cent."

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, May 21, 1872.

ASHES.—Soda Ash is quoted at 4¾ to 5 for common; refined, 5½@6; nitrate, 5 to 5¼; pots, 10; pearls, 11.

APPLES.—Receipts continue light, and the supply is very much reduced, though equal to the demand, which is very much restricted, in consequence of the extreme prices; we continue to quote at $5 to $6 per bbl, for fair to choice.

BUTTER.—Is coming in freely, and the market is weakening, though there is no quotable decline; good to prime solid packed, 18 to 22, prime to choice roll, 24 to 25—the inquiry is mainly for roll.

BEANS.—Scarce, and there is a fair local demand, with sales at $2,50 to $3,25 per bushel, for common to choice.

BROOM CORN.—Is quiet and unchanged; small sales within the range of 5 to 8 cts per lb, according to quality.

CHEESE.—Is in good supply, but prices are unchanged, and the New York market is reported firmer. We continue to quote 12 to 12½ for Dairy; 13½ to 14 for Factory, and 14½ to 15 for Goshen.

CARBON OIL.—Continues dull, but this is usually the case at this season of the year; standard brands may be quoted at 19½ to 20 cts in a jobbing way, and 2 to 3 cts additional for smaller lots.

CONCENTRATED LYE.—$5,50 ₱ case.

CANNED GOODS.—Peaches (3 lb cans) $6,00 to $7 per case; Tmatoes $4,50@5; Corn, $5,50@7,00, according to quality and brand.

CEMENT.—Louisville $2,50 to $2,75; Calcined Plaster $4,50; Cleveland white Lime, $2; eastern, $1,75.

COUNTRY BACON.—Quoted at 4½ to 5 cts for Shoulders; 6 to 6½ for clear Sides, and 8 to 9 for Hams. Country Lard, 7 to 8 cts, according to quality and condition.

DRIED FRUIT.—Peaches continue dull but unchanged; halves, 9 to 9½; mixed, 7 to 8; quarters; 6 to 7; peeled, 15 to 20. Apples in demand, and the supply, especially for anything good, is very much reduced; we continue to quote at 8 to 10 cents for medium to prime. Blackberries, 16 to 17; pitted Cherries, 27 to 30; unpitted, 6 to 8.

EGGS.—The market was generally reported firmer to-day, in consequence of diminished receipts, but there is no change to make in quotations; dealers generally regarded 14 cts as the ruling price.

FEATHERS.—No. 1 quoted at 75 wholesale, and 80 to 85 in a small way. Mixed Stock, 40 to 60 cts, according to quality.

FLOUR.—Is steady, with a moderate local trade, but, as noted, in our last report, the feeling is not as strong as it was last week, which may be attributed mainly to the recent copious rains. We continue to quote, in a jobbing way, at $8,75 to $9,25 for fair to choice Spring wheat, and $9,50 to $10 for good to choice red wheat. Rye Flour, $5,75 to $6.

GRAIN.—The fluctuation in the price of Wheat at Chicago, during the past two or three weeks, was greater than during any similar period since the war; this has been due almost entirely to the manipulation of cliques who have been able to advance prices in consequence of the small stock in that markes. Receipts there, as here and everywhere, have been small, because the farmers were busy seeding and could not stop to market what wheat they had on hand, be that much or little. The feeling, however, is not as strong as it was last week and the millers are disposed to be bearish, though they cannot hope to get prices down much here until the receipts increase considerably; we continue to quote at $2,10 to $2,15 for red winter, and $2,20 to $2,25 for white. Oats steady with a fair local demand, but there is no change to note in prices; sales at 54 to 56 for mixed to prime white. Shelled Corn is in light supply and may be quoted steady at 68 to 70 for mixed to prime yellow—we were reported sales at quotations. Rye is quiet and unchanged; $1 to $1,05. Nothing doing in Barley.

GROCERIES.—Coffee continues firm and prices are still tending up—we again advance our quotations; however, the demand is only fair, and it is not expected that there will be much activity until after the first of July. Sugars steady but unchanged. Syrups dull; prime New Orleans scarce and held at full prices.

REFINED SUGARS.—Standard Hards, 13; A Coffee, 12; B, 11½; Ex C, 11⅝; C Yellow and Circle C, 11¼. These quotations are for straight brands.

COFFEE.—Rio—Choice, 25@25½; Prime, 24 @24½; Good, 23½; Fair, 23. Java, 28. Roasted, pure, 28; lower grades, 25@26.

RAW SUGARS.—Choice New Orleans, 11@11¼; Prime, 10¾; Good, 10; Fair, 9½. Choice Porto Rico, 10½; Prime, 10¼. Demerara—Choice, 11¾; Good, 11¼.

NEW ORLEANS MOLASSES.—Choice, 75; Prime, 70; Good, 65; Fair, 60.

SYRUPS.—Fancy White Drips, 70; White Honey, 60; Havemeyer & Elder's, 60@62; other grades, from 40@50.

RICE.—Carolina—Choice, 9¾; Prime, 9¼; Good, 9. Rangoon, 8@8¼. Patna, 8½@9.

SPICES.—Grain Pepper, 24; do Pimento, 16; Cassia, 50; Cloves, 25; Nutmegs, $1,25.

HAY.—The reports in regard to baled are conflicting, and quotations irregular; some dealers report the market dull at $28 to $30, while others report sales at $30 to 32. The supply is comparatively light, though fully equal to the demand, as consumers generally seem to be pretty well stocked.

OILS.—No. 1, extra lard oil is quoted, in a jobbing way, at 78@80 and No. 2 at 60 to 62.

POTATOES.—Continues dull, very dull, and, with continued fair receipts and stocks accumulating, prices are weak and drooping; we now quote, for small lots, at 60 to 65 for mixed, and 70 to 75 for good to prime Peach Blows.

POULTRY.—Live Chickens may be quoted at 75 to 85 cts per pair, by the coop.

PEA NUTS.—Sales at 8½@9cts per lb.

PROVISIONS.—Plain shoulders, 6cts; sugar cured do, 8cts; ribbed sides, 7½cts; short rib, 8cts; clear, 8½cts. Breakfast Bacon, 10½@11cts; plain sugar cured hams, 11¾; do, canvased, 12¼. Lard; in tierces, 9½; in kegs, 10½; in buckets, 11. Mess Pork, $14½. Dried Beef, 17¼. Ham sausage, 10.

RAGS.—Sales at 4@4¼cts per lb.

SALT.—Is still quoted at $1,85 per bbl by the car load, and $2 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS.—There is little or no inquiry for either Timothy or Clover Seeds, and the season is over. Flax Seed is in steady demand at $1,90 to $1,95.

TALLOW.—Rough 8½@9cts

WHISKY.—Highwines firm but unchanged—92cts in a jobbing way.

Refined quiet and unchanged; and in the absence of sales, we continue to quote at 23¼ on spot; 23⅜ for May; 23⅜ for June, 24 for July, and 24 for June to July.

RIVER NEWS.

The river remains about stationary at this point, with scant 30 inches in the channel. The Allegheny River was reported rising slowly at Oil City, but it is not likely unless there was more rain up there than there was here, that there will be much of a rise in that stream. The weather here continues cloudy and cool, with every indication of more rain.

No arrivals from below since the date of our last report. The Carrie Brooks, from Wheeling, is due here this morning.

The Julia No. 2 departed for Zanesville with an average trip. Pilots Lyons and McLaughlin.

The West Virginia, from Geneva, arrived and departed as usual, with a fair trip each way. Captain Sam R. Patterson has retired from command and resumed his place on the wharfboat again.

The Missouri River was rising at Fort Benton on the 16th.

Com. W. J. Kountz is still at St. Louis looking after his fleet of steamers. The Commodore has spent most of his time at this place recently.

Capt. Geo. D. Moore, of the Lucy Bertram, has returned to St. Louis; he removed his family to that city last Spring, as did also Capt. Mellon, clerk on the Yaeger.

The Brill is announced to depart for Nashville on the first water.

There are a number of towboats en route for this port, with tows of iron ore; among others, the Fearless, Ironsides, and Iron Mountain. Of course, they will not be able to reach here until there is more water.

The Juniata is laid up at Cincinnati, and the Mollie Ebert at Bellaire.

The Catlettsburg wharfboat project, mentioned some months ago, is under way. Messrs. C. Pritchard and Hart Eastham have given out the contract for a mammoth boat, 140 feet long by 32 feet wide, to Alex. Perry, the builder of the "Red Line" barges at that place. Clarke, Moore & Co. furnish the lumber, which is about all sawed, and it is proposed to have the hull completed in about four weeks.

—The City of New Orleans has entered suit in the United States District Court against Charles H. Walde, district wharfinger, assigned to the first district thereof, and his securities, Edward Conery, M. D. Lagan and James Mackinson. Petitioner alleges that while said Waldo was acting as wharfinger, between April 25, 1870, and 10th June, 1871, he collected from sea-going and river steamers and other vessels, not less than the sum of $160,092 15, that he has accounted for, and paid over to petitioner the sum of $155,736 18, leaving in the hands unaccounted for and not paid over moneys collected amounting to the sum of $4,355 97—hence this action. A similar suit has been instituted by the city against John G Chadwick, wharfinger to the Fourth district thereof, and his securities, George Benson, F. W. Perkins and James Guthrie, for the sum of $1,710 31, with interest. This amount was collected by Chadwick, as wharfinger, and is unaccounted for.

—Saturday's St. Louis Democrat relates the following scene on 'Change: Capt. Sedam, of the Commonwealth, approaches Capt. Pepper, of the Thompson Dean, and addresses him in a serious tone: "Capt. Pepper, having consulted with the other owners of my steamer, and got their consent, I propose to sell to you my turn to load."

Capt. P.—"All right; how much do you want for it?"

Capt. S.—"Three dollars."

Capt. Pepper offered him six bits. We did not hear the answer, owing to a rapping of the auctioneer's hammer, which we considered a strange coincidence. We had visions of steamers flying the red flag, and going off under the auctioneer's hammer.

—The Cincinnati Commercial of Monday says: "The Fearless was aground at Brush Creek, on the middle bar, with three iron ore barges; towboat, name unknown, aground at Kinnikinic, with tow scattered, and the J. Sharp McDonald, with an empty tow, aground at Guyan, with her stern close to the channel, and the Hornet No. 2 was double tripping through Racoon Island when the Lookout passed down. Nick Whittin pilot of the Lookout, reports a dry root at the foot of Blanny, in the channel, but boats can run either side of it. There is also a piece of an old coal boat in the lower crossing at New Richmond bar; steamers run above it, while there is another at Shipyard; above the old stoneboats, boats can run either side the obstruction.

—A Catlettsburg telegram, under date of Sunday, says: Yesterday morning the Big Sandy River commenced to rise fast, and sweeping all before it. By noon the waves at the mouth rolled ten feet high, timber men suffering heavy losses. It is roughly estimated that over three thousand dollars worth of timber was swept away. To-day the current is running swift, and it is expected before night that Sandy will be running out swifter than yesterday, and steamboats and raftsmen are on the lookout. The Ohio River is rising fast.

—The steamer City of St. Paul, of the Union Line, arrived at Duluth at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, being the first arrival through the straights for the season. She brought about 600 tons of freight, 400 tons of which was iron for the St. Paul and Pacific road, and the ballance merchandise, mostly for St. Paul. The steamer Letta Bernard, about which there were serious fears of her being lost in the gale of a week ago Saturday, arrived at Duluth on Sunday, safe and sound. She weathered the gale all right.

—The Cincinnati Gazette, of Monday, says: The Ironsides arrived from St. Louis Saturday evening, with five barges of ore for Pittsburgh, and, after cleaning out her boilers, left for that point yesterday morning, with Capt. Mackelfish in command, and John Moore at the wheel. Our old friend, Captain J. H. Dunlap, is a sort of Superintendant of the Gray Iron Line, to which the Ironsides belongs. We met him Saturday evening looking well.

—Saturday's Evansville Journal says: The St. Mary arrived from New Orleans about half-past 10 A. M., with a large amount of old iron and such. Captain Andy Robinson was looking as fine as satin, but expects to have to throw away his white plug, fearing he may be suspected of Greeleyism, of which he "takes none in his'n."

—The Northern Line Packet Company's steamer Savannah sunk a loaded barge Saturday morning against the Hannibal bridge. This is the second barge this boat has sunk this season in the same way.

—The Tom Jasper has withdrawn from the St. Louis and New Orleans trade, and has entered the St. Louis and St. Paul trade as a regular packet. There is no change in her officers, except in pilots.

—The little hull of the new Sandy packet of M. Freese & Co., was launched on Saturday week at Ashland. The caulking of the boat was done by Frazier & McCarthy, of the Ashland Dry Docks.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: Captain Keniston left for Cincinnati. He says he has quit boating and gone into the real estate agency. He carried away some clay on his boats.

—The Thompson Dean has withdrawn from the Combination Line, and loads outside, leaving on Tuesday for New Orleans, and the Great Republic will probably follow.

Long standing constitutional diseases skillfully treated, and the effects of mercury completely eradicated.

A medical pamphlet is published in plain language on venereal diseases sent by mail for two stamps. Correspondence strictly confidential. Hours—9 A. M. to 8 P. M., Sundays excepted. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pains in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, they will effect a cure when all other means have failed. The circulars around each package give full directions and advice, or will be sent free to all writing for them, sealed from observation.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—It is the fate of every valuable medicine to be COUNTERFEITED. Job Moses' Sir James Clarke's Female Pills are extensively COUNTERFEITED. The genuine have the name of "JOB MOSES" on each package. All others are worthless. Dishonest Druggists endeavor to sell the counterfeits to make greater profits.

The Somerset Sufferers.

The Relief Fund for the sufferers by the late fire at Somerset, as reported by Clerk Patterson, now amounts to $6,398 95. Several small amounts were added to the list yesterday. Mr. Patterson, in the afternoon, forwarded another $1,000 to the officers of the fund in Somerset. Those persons who have not yet subscribed are requested to do so as early as possible, as the list will shortly be closed.

An Officer Injured

James McWillock, constable of the First ward of East Birmingham, was attacked on Monday night by two roughs and severely beaten, after which they threw him over an embankment a distance of fifteen feet. He received very severe injuries by the fall, breaking his leg and ankle. Dr. Duff thinks he has sustained internal injuries. The officer was on duty at a ball which was held at Gungle's Hall, when he was attacked. The police are making diligent search for the rowdies and it is to be hoped that they will soon be brought to justice.

Decoration Day.

The Committee on Invitation G. A. R. extend a cordial invitation to all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors, to join the Grand Army in the memorial ceremonies, to be held in Allegheny Cemetery on May 30th. Post 3 will meet at its hall, 104 Fourth avenue, at 9 o'clock A. M., and Post 117 at its hall, Penn avenue, Twentieth ward, at 8 o'clock A. M., at which places all who intend to participate are requested to assemble. A general invitation is extended to all schools and societies to take part in the exercises at the cemetery.

Prisoner Identified.

A gentleman named J. C. Roderick arrived in this city yesterday morning from Cumberland, Md., and on visiting the lock-up identified the man named Jacob Barker, confined there, as the party wanted for the robberies committed in Cumberland. It will be remembered the prisoner was arrested by Detectives Scott and Cupples on a telegram giving a description of the thief. The pocket-book found on the person of the prisoner was identified as having been stolen from Roderick, and the prisoner admits his guilt. He will be taken to Cumberland to-day.

Badly Injured.

Yesterday morning an information was made before Alderman McMasters by a man named Bartley Grady charging Michael Grace with felonious assault and battery. Both men are puddlers engaged in a mill in Frankstown. A disagreement occurred between them on Saturday which would have resulted in a fight but for the interference of friends. Grace, it is alleged, was not satisfied with the settlement but determined to have satisfaction of Grady. On Monday night Michael laid in wait for Bartley and struck him a heavy blow on the head with a handy billy, inflicting a very serious wound. The Alderman issued a warrant for Grace's arrest.

A Bigamy Case.

An information was made before Alderman Crist, of the Ninth ward, Allegheny, by Eugene Baily, charging his wife Jane Baily with bigamy. The deponent alleges that he and the defendant were lawfully married on the 14th day of April, 1868. Everything was supposed to be serene, until a short time ago he learned that Mrs. Baily had another husband living. The parties reside on Sedgewick street, Allegheny, and are said to be of highly respectable family. This little affair has, of course, created quite a sensation among the local gossips, and it is intimated that another information is to be made against the defendant. A warrant has been issued for her arrest.

A Terrible Death.

Cornelius O'Conner, who lived in Pleasant Valley, Allegheny, received his week's wages on last Saturday night, and started a little spree which he little thought, at the time, was to cost him his life. After imbibing pretty freely he sauntered towards home. On his way he was obliged to cross a board walk over a drain, which is filled with the refuse from a slaughter-house. In crossing this he fell into the drain. He was so much intoxicated that he was unable to get out, and floundered around some time until assistance arrived.

Either from the effects of his fall or of the filth which he swallowed while in the drain, he died early yesterday morning. The Coroner was notified, and will hold an inquest this morning.

Shooting at an Officer.

Shortly before midnight as officer Stokely was patrolling his beat on Duquesne way, and when near Fourth avenue, he was surprised by the report of a pistol and the whizzing of a ball in close proximity to his head. On turning in the direction from whence the report came, a second shot was fired, which also, fortunately, missed the officer. A diligent search in the doorways and alleys was at once made, but no one could be found. There can be no doubt that the intention of the unknown assailant was to shoot officer Stokely. Some time since this policeman arrested several notorious characters who "loaf" in this neighborhood. One of them has been heard to threaten Stokely's life, and it is supposed he was the man who fired the pistol.

Shooting Affray at Torrens Station.

Shortly before noon yesterday, a man was shot in a saloon at Torrens Station. The man who did the shooting, it is said, is the proprietor of a tavern, and the name of the injured man is understood to be McLoughlin. It is alleged that McLoughlin entered the bar room and called for drinks, and having obtained them refused to pay for them. On being requested to settle his bill the man became very disorderly, and drawing a knife, jumped over the bar and savagely threatened to "cut" the proprietor. The latter drew a pistol and fired, the ball taking effect in McLoughlin's shoulder and inflicting a dangerous wound. The proprietor, as we are informed, then left the saloon and came to the city. At a late hour last night he was visiting various drinking houses on Diamond alley and telling his own story of the shooting. He also stated that he would go to some Alderman's office and surrender himself. No official statement of the occurrence has at this writing been received by the police.

Fashionable Wedding.

At Trinity Church last evening the nuptial ceremonies of Miss Hanna Straw and Mr. W. Whitehead were celebrated according to the ritual of the Episcopal Church. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Richard Straw, the merchant tailor, and partner in the firm of Straw & Morton, and the bridegroom is the brother of Mr. Whitehead, the Fifth avenue photographer. The church was filled by the friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was accompanied by three bridesmaids and the groom supported by the same number of groomsmen. The ladies were very handsomely attired in white. The bride who is a beautiful lady looked particularly charming in this becoming attire, and went through her share in the ceremony with pleasing modesty. After the ceremony a reception was given at Mr. Straw's residence at Jack's Run, and the happy couple left on an early train this morning for an extended wedding tour. We wish the newly wedded pair all the joy their most sanguine hopes can possibly have pictured.

The Crawford Inquest.

Coroner West yesterday finished the investigation as to the cause of the death of young Crawford, who it will be remembered was found dead in the Pan Handle tunnel, last week. The suspicions of foul play which surrounded the case were cleared up to the satisfaction of the jury. Several witnesses were examined, the testimony of the majority of whom went to show, that Frank McConnell, the young man arrested on suspicion of having been instrumental in Crawford's death, was not near the scene of the tragedy on the night of its occurrence. An engineer in the employ of the Pan Handle Railroad stated that on the night of his death he saw Crawford enter the mouth of the tunnel. He was hatless at the time but did not seem very much intoxicated. He (Crawford) walked up to the witness' engine which was in slow motion and placed his hand upon it. The engineer cautioned him not to go near the locomotive and Crawford then walked along the tunnel. The witness supposed him to be an employe of the road. Other testimony of a less important character was taken. The jury after a short deliberation returned the following verdict: That Jerome J. Crawford came to his death on the night of May 14th in the Pittsburgh tunnel of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad, by being struck and run over by an unknown train or trains.

McConnell was discharged from custody.

Some of our churches seem to have much difficulty in selecting pastors. The members of one spent almost all Monday night in attempting to choose which of three clergymen should in future be their paster. Each one of the candidates had warm admirers, and an almost incredible number of ballots was therefore taken.

A disgraceful row occurred in Pipetown on Monday evening in the neighborhood of the gas works. The fight was between an Irishman and Englishman. The Irishman was considerably abused, he called for the police but none of them made their appearance. We are informed by the people residing there that the police will never come up unless there is about a dozen of them together.

A German who lives on the Perrysville plank road about three miles from Allegheny, deserted his wife a few days ago, and when told by his fellow-workmen that the police were after him, immediately procured a rope with which he intended to foil the ends of justice by putting an end to his life. The men watched him, however, and followed him into the woods in time to prevent his committing suicide.

We yesterday had the pleasure of a call from Mr. Lander Cole, of the Baltimore Evening Journal, now on a trip through the different States, for Mr. David E. Foutz, proprietor of De Bings Celebrated Pile Remedy. This preparation is so well and familiarly known to the public that it needs no recommendation from us. Messrs. R. E. Sellers & Co., No. 45 Wood street are the agents for this city.

A lady residing upon the South Side, while engaged in sewing a day or two since, was startled by the manly form of an agent for one of our city sewing machine manufacturers, standing by her side. She ventured to remonstrate with him for thus entering her house without knocking, and requested him to leave, but the young man laughed her to scorn, and said he "had a license for entering houses at all hours of the day and night." There will be a funeral one of these days at which sewing machine men will constitute the chief portion of the mourners, if these things continue to overcome us like a summer cloud.

Day before yesterday we published a communication from a correspondent at Oakdale in which a worthy alderman of this city figured. Since then we have discovered the facts of the case and we feel assured that we were innocently imposed upon by the author, as he must have regarded the whole thing as a good joke on the 'Squire which was interpreted as a serious matter when in print. There was nothing more disorderly about the party beyond an exhibition of natural fun and frivolity which attend all excursions of the city people into the country, and we regret that any other construction could have been just upon the article than that of a good joke seriously told.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A Misplaced Switch on the Connellsville Railroad—An Engine Damaged—The Switchman "Lights Out."

The Cumberland News of Tuesday has the following account of, what might have been, a very serious accident on the Connellsville Railroad:

At the junction of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania and the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroads, about three miles above this city, a switchman is kept constantly at the place to attend to the switches and keep them in proper order for passing trains. Yesterday morning the Pittsburgh Express was properly switched upon its right track, after which the watchman repaired, so it is said, to his watch box to take a snooze. Failing to wake up in time the 6 A. M. coal train from Mt. Savage came down, and the engine, by the misplacement of the switch, was run off the rails and turned across the tracks, by which both roads were completely blocked up, and it was nearly 10 A. M. before the engine could be gotten upon the rails and the road opened. In the meantime a number of trains—both passenger and tonnage—were stopped at that point, awaiting opportunity to pass.

It is reported of the switchman—Diffenbaugh—that as soon as he awoke and perceived the damage he had caused, he made tracks for parts unknown, not awaiting for his discharge from the service of the Company, which was soon announced. As a consequence of this delay to trains but half the usual quantity of coal was brought down from the mines. The damage to the engine is not considerable.

School Board Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Forbes District School Board was held on Monday evening, the following members being present: Messrs. McMaster, Morrow, Normecutt and Case.

The reports of the Principal, Visiting Teachers and Visiting Committee of the Board were read. A communication from the Secretary of the Central Board of Education was read, transmitting a resolution which passed the Central Board to the effect that no new teacher would be paid for schools in which the average attendance falls below the required number, and notifying the Board that the average attendance for April covered but fifteen teachers, while the number employed is eighteen.

The average attendance for April was reported to be six hundred and twenty.

The resignation of Miss Connelly a teacher in the Second avenue schools was read and accepted. The Secretary was instructed to express the regret of the Board at her resignation.

The tax levy for the ensuing year was fixed at six mills, the same as last year. The necessary expense of opening of Forbes street and the sewers on Ann and Stephenson streets, the Board would have reduced the tax considerably.

The Board expressed it as their opinion that the rate paid female teachers should be in accordance to the number of years taught, without reference to the position of the school.

The question of the change in text books was then introduced, and the opinion of the Board seemed to be against the change. After considerable discussion, the following resolution was offered and passed:

Resolved, That this Board disclaim having given its representative in the Central Board any instructions to vote for a change of books, and that we shall hereafter require him to report to this Board all matters of interest to come up before said Central Board, so that he may hear and act with a knowledge of the views of this Board.

ELOPEMENT.

A Widower with Three Children Runs Away with a Young Lady in McKean—The Girl's Father Gives Chase and Captures the Fugitives.

The Erie Dispatch publishes the following elopement story:

At about half-past 7 o'clock last evening, there was a decided flustration about the police office, caused by the arrival of a well-to-do McKean farmer, Mr. Heman Clapper, who came there to obtain assistance in capturing his runaway daughter, aged sixteen, believing her to be within the city limits.

His story was briefly told. A man named Glenn (a widower with two or three children), who used to work at Riblet's manufactory, but has lately been employed at one of the organ factories, has relatives in McKean whom he occasionally visits. On one of these trips, about three weeks since, he became acquainted with Miss Clapper, and she took a walk with him. Her father was very much displeased, and forbade Glenn ever coming to the house, or speaking to his daughter again, but it seems to have been a case of love at first sight, and as "love laughs at locksmiths" it is easy to guess that the paternal admonition was set at naught.

Yesterday Glenn hired a horse and buggy at Bloss Blenner's livery stable and drove out to McKean, where he met the young lady and had an interview with her. He then learned that her father was absent from home, and the plan of an elopement was at once agreed upon. But woman's tongue has upset many a nicely laid plan, and yesterday added another incident to the long list. Miss Clapper confided to a sister the momentous fact that she was going to Erie and should be married that night, and soon afterwards stepped into the buggy with Glenn, in search of a minister to perform the ceremony. Her father did not return for upwards of an hour, but the first thing he learned was just what the eloping damsel had told her sister. Mr. Clapper was indignant, but did not lose any time venting his indignation in empty words. He got his best horse hitched before his buggy quicker than he had ever harnessed him before, and sped along the road after the runaways, tracking them to the city. Glenn had not allowed the grass to grow under his horses' feet, and reached the city an hour ahead of his pursuer. Mr. Clapper called on an old neighbor, now a resident of the city, and the two made their way to the police office, which brings us to where the story started. Several of the patrolmen were notified, and it only took a few minutes to learn that the horse and buggy had been hired from B. Blenner's barn, and was to be back at eight o'clock. A watch was set, and a few minutes afterwards, as a horse and buggy turned the corner of Peach, on Eighth street, the owner said "that's my horse." Glenn drove along nearer State, but appeared to scent danger, as the buggy went slowly and was driven to one side of the road, but the game was up, for a policeman close by took the horse by the bitts, and Mr. Clapper coming up, ordered his daughter to alight. She said she was married, but neither could produce a certificate, and at the second command the girl got out, no resistance being offered by Glenn, who was permitted to drive off. The girl, who is dark haired, plump and pretty, accompanied her father to the police court, and there admitted that they were not married, but added a clincher by saying that they would be just as soon as she was of lawful age.

"There's many a slip
'Twixt cup and lip.

And the affair of last night proved it.

Bridget Broe was yesterday released from jail, under the insolvent law.

Thomas Grogan was sent to the workhouse for sixty days, by the Mayor, for disorderly conduct.

She alleges that he attacked her without provocation and struck her, and then threatened her with bodily harm. The case was settled by defendant paying costs.

Leopold Hart, a saloon keeper on Penn street, made an information against Wm. Castle, charging him with the larceny of $75. Castle was barkeeper for the deponent, and on Sunday afternoon it is alleged that he cleared out the till and took his departure. Deputy Mayor Nichols issued a warrant for his arrest.

Jno. McCorr made an information against the driver of license plate No. 66, before Deputy Mayor Nichols, charging him with having driven into his buggy on Penn street. Warrant issued.

Bill Patcher and Sally Oakes, two well known characters to the police, were last night placed in the lock-up for disorderly conduct.

The Mayor had seventy-two cases before him yesterday morning. So large a number of arrests on a Monday night is quite unusual.

A performing bear was taken before the Mayor yesterday morning in company with its master. He (the master) was advised to leave town.

Amusements.

Pittsburgh Opera House.—Mr. Frank Mayo appeared for the second time as Tom Badger in the ever popular play "Streets of New York." His impersonation is a very excellent one, and well worth seeing. The support accorded him by the stock company is good, and the entire performance of a very enjoyable character.

Academmy of Music.—This comfortable theatre was again crowded last night and the comic opera burlesque, "Fortunio" was received with evident satisfaction. The piece has been elaborately mounted, the new scenes painted expressly by Hoyt, being magnificent specimens of the scenic art. Of Mrs. Oates and her company we have already spoken. Their short season in our midst affords the lovers of fun and music an unusual opportunity of gratifying their tastes, as the piece abounds in both.

Murdock.—Mr. James E. Murdock gives a reading on Thursday night next at Library Hall. Mr. M. has always been a favorite in this city and his present visit being the first after a prolonged absence, he may rely upon being greeted by a full house. His selections are admirable and all who know him will be confident of his ability to do them justice.

For Recorder.

The citizens of Allegheny county ought not to forget or overlook the claims of a brave soldier when an applicant for office. I am no politician, but a square, working and voting Republican. I want to cast my vote for the brave, crippled soldier, Mr. Augustus Beckert, who is wholly incapacitated by the loss of his leg from doing manual toil. Mr. Beckert never told me so, but I learn he lost his limb on the bloody field of second Bull Run, where he laid for eight days without medical assistance, suffering untold torture of mind and body. Mr. B. is fully capable of discharging all the duties of the office to which he aspires, and his opponent has no such claims on the people as he has. It will be a burning shame if the Republicans refuse to sustain this brave soldier and able Republican. We earnestly hope all good citizens entitled to a vote next Saturday will cast it for the delegates who will vote for Mr. Beckert.

Fair Play.

Capt. George W. Murphy.

As the day of the Convention approaches, the people should bear in mind that Capt. Murphy will be before that body for the office of Clerk of Courts. Those who know the captain need not be told of his entire and peculiar fitness for a complete performance of the duties of clerk, nor of the many traits of character that make him a personal favorite with his friends. If the nomination should fall upon him he will impart strength to the ticket, and if elected prove a capital officer.

LETTERS FROM THE COUNTRY.

Bentleysville, Pa., May 21st.

Editors of Gazette:—Washington in connection with other counties must bear her burden in the failure of a genuine crop. From present indications about half an annual yield is reasonably anticipated. Wheat suffered severely during the past winter in consequence of high prevailing winds sweeping over fields entirely destitute of their usual protection, thereby laying bare the roots to the mercy of subsequent freezing. Fears were for some time strongly entertained by farmers that their spring and summer labors were to go unrewarded, naturally resulting from the excessive want of rain. Seeds deposited lay, and received no nourishment whatever. But the last few days dispelled this gloom and verdancy again resumes universal sway, while farms and fields are pregnant and teeming with life and growth. Peaches in our county will certainly be classed among the rare products of the season, especially of native growth, as I have yet to see a tree in bloom, and many, it is but just to predict, will never blossom more.

The apple crop is certainly promising, and the probabilities are there will be apples in profusion.

A Reader.

Clinton, May 20, 1872.

Editors Gazette:—I was in the city a few days ago and was informed by a leading Republican that Mr. Robert Woods was a candidate for Congress before the Republican Convention that meets on Tuesday, the 28th; and I find on inquiry that there are very few that know that Mr. Woods is in the field at all, and doubt the fact of his being a candidate. Under these circumstances we would be glad to hear from Mr. Woods himself. If he is before the people or would accept the nomination for that office, he certainly would be one of the best and ablest men we could send to Washington to take care of the interests of the great county of Allegheny.

Florence!

The Florence sewing machine needs no puffing to commend it to general favor, as its merits are easily perceived by any who will give the matter a few minutes' attention. It is the perfection of simplicity in mechanism, and is not easily put out of order. It runs smoothly, and is always in condition for work; and then it is so simple and easily run that the learner has little difficulty in acquiring perfect skill in managing it, and doing the sewing for the family. Every variety of sewing can be done with the Florence, and in each department the work is satisfactory. It can be seen in practical operation at the office of the agents, Messrs. Heckert & McKain, No. 8 Sixth street.

A TRUANT HUSBAND.

The Result of Broken Resolutions—A Cowhide—An Effective and Convincing Argument.

The neighborhood of Ohio avenue, in the proverbially quiet city of Allegheny, has lately been startled by a little domestic discord which has afforded a fruitful theme of gossip and speculation among the female newsmongers, and caused those of the sterner sex who are gifted (?) with strong-minded better-halves to conduct themselves in a remarkably cautious and virtuous manner.

The lady and gentleman who are the subject of this little bit of history reside on Ohio avenue, and are, of course, of the highest respectability, move in the most fashionable circles of society, &c., &c. The husband, however, had a habit of associating with other ladies than the one whom he had taken for better or worse, much to the dislike of his wife. She had often expressed to him her displeasure at this conduct, and endeavored, by mild reasoning and gentle admonition, to induce him to break off from the society of his female companions, and cleave alone to her. He finally promised her that he would mend his ways, and hereafter tread the straight path of a dutiful husband. His promises to do better, however, proved of no avail, as the sequel will show.

On last Monday evening the lady learned that her husband was sauntering down street with a female companion of doubtful character. Obtaining a cowhide she started in pursuit. She soon discovered the wayward couple quietly enjoying themselves in an ice cream saloon. Without unnecessary introductory remarks or a long explanation, she immediately applied the cowhide to the back and head of her truant husband. He waited for no apology, nor did he stop to excuse himself to his companion, but started towards his residence where it is to be hoped the tenor of his domestic life may in the future run more smoothly.

THE MEINHART CASE.

Postponement of the Trial Argued—The Defendant Said to be in Bad Health—Decision Reserved.

Yesterday afternoon, in the United States Court, the case of Jacob Meinhart, who is indicted for dealing in counterfeit money was called up, his counsel Messrs. Swartzwelder and Weir making a motion for the postponement of the hearing until the next term of the Court. It will be remembered that some eight days since, when the case was called up for trial, that counsel for defendant moved for the continuance of the case until the next term, and in support of their application, submitted an affidavit signed by a physician in which the statement was made that the defendant was lying ill at a house in Washington county, and that it would be hazardous for him to be removed. Two other certificates were subsequently presented, in which the physician stated that the defendant was laboring under nervous prostration and had well defined symptoms of a disorder of the digestive organs. These certificates were presented to the Court yesterday afternoon and a motion for a continuance was renewed. Judge M'Kennan said that the application for a continuance had first been made on the ground of the absence of important witnesses. The facts were shown to be otherwise. Then the certificate of the first physician was filed in support of the motion, but subsequent developments have proved that the Court would have erred in continuing the case on that affidavit. If the prisoner was unable to appear, he should not be compelled to be present, but if he was not permanently or dangerously ill, the Court would not feel justified in continuing the case. A sharp cross-firing occurred between counsel for defendant and the District Attorney, after which the Court stated that no definite order would be made until Monday next.

Horace Greeley doubtless expects to carry the country by a large majority. We think such a result very doubtful unless he buys his clothes at the popular establishment of Messrs. Urling, Follansbee & Co., southwest corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street. The crowds who have purchased outfits at this establishment came away pleased with neat fitting and elegant suits, which give satisfaction in every particular.

Horace Greeley, when asked by his friends who he expects to organize his forces in Allegheny county, always remarks, he does not want any politicians here, as he has secured a large number of Mardorf & Co.'s brooms, and if he can't make a clean sweep of it, there is no use of trying, besides all good housekeepers use these brooms, and the old Philosopher goes on the principle, that if all the women side with him, their husbands will too. Be that as it may, we do know that these brooms are the universal favorite with housekeepers. Ask your grocer for them and take none other. They will wear twice as long, and give better satisfaction than any broom now in use. Remember Mardorf & Co.'s brooms are what you want.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A Man tries to kill himself with a Pocket Knife.

Eugene Bailey, the man mentioned elsewhere as having made an information against his wife for bigamy, was himself arrested yesterday on a charge of drunkeness preferred against him by his wife. About two o'clock yesterday afternoon he was brought to the Allegheny lockup. A short time afterwards Officer Holmer had occasion to go back into the lockup, when he observed Bailey making some very peculiar motions as if sawing his arm. The officer noticed blood upon the floor, and immediately opened the door of the cell to see what the man was doing. He found him engaged in attempting to saw off his left arm with a pocket knife which he held in his right hand. The arm was bleeding profusely, and considerable blood appeared upon the floor. The knife was taken from him, and Drs. Smith and Kirker were called and dressed the wounds, which although severe, are not dangerous as no arteries were severed. Had the man been left to himself a few moments longer he would have cut an artery, and would doubtless have bled to death. As it was he had cut his arm nearly to the bone, besides inflicting several other less severe gashes upon his body. There seems to be no doubt that the man is insane.

AUCTION SALES.

A Goodly Heritage,
50 LOTS 50 BY 150,
AT
FLEMING STATION,
AT AUCTION.

A delightful ride of about twenty minutes through the Parks of Allegheny and along the shores of the beautiful Ohio, brings you to the most picturesque station on the P. F. W. & C. R. R., to a spot of cool waters, noble trees, grateful shades, and winding paths and ways, all so charming as to inspire the pencil of the artist Hetzel to transfer the scene to canvas, becoming one of the most beautiful pictures. This lovely hamlet at Fleming Station, only six miles from Allegheny and thirty minutes from Pittsburgh, with its nineteen daily trains to and from the city, over a smooth, solid and remarkably safe railway. Low fares, low taxes, and low price of land. It is rapidly improving.

This spring a beautiful plot of fourteen acres was divided into large desirable lots, which will be offered at Auction on Thursday, May 23d,

Upon the arrival of the 10:23 train from Allegheny, where and when every person in search of a home of his own for the present or immediate future, or wanting a good, safe investment of small or large means, should attend. Fleming is nearer the business parts of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, means and time of transit considered, than many places within the city limits. Apples, Grapes, &c., already planted. Churches, Schools, Stores and Postoffice near the property. Windward of the city, hence no smoke nor dust. Good society, beautiful drive, good driving road to Allegheny; no foggy smoke nor smoky fog; well drained; good water; level ground; cheap, good, accessible and low taxed land, better than bank stock. Six miles by steam on Ft. W. Road is nearer your business than one mile on the street cars. Finest outlet to the cities. Bid and buy. Be your own savings bank, your deposits secured by real estate. Price steadily advancing and population growing. Fine building stone near premises. Plans at Leggate's, 159 Federal street, Allegheny, and at J. F. Diffenbacher's, 80 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh. Free tickets, both ways, issued at Federal street station for the 10:23 Train, THURSDAY MORNING, May 23d. Take $20 with you and attend this sale. Title perfect.
